

AN INSPIRING RALLY HELD AT WELLSVILLE

Republican Campaign Issues Ably Discussed by Messrs Kennedy, Laylin and Brown.

VIGOROUS APPEALS TO ALL PROTECTIONISTS

The city hall at Wellsville last evening was the scene of a political demonstration that will long remain in the minds of the very large assembly present. Together with the bulk of representative citizens there were present many from East Liverpool and other nearby towns. A richer treat could not be desired than that given by the three orators who addressed the meeting, Hon. James Kennedy, of Youngstown, Republican candidate for congress in the Eighteenth district; Hon. L. C. Laylin, of Columbus, secretary of state; and ex-Congressman John B. Brown, of New Castle, Pa.

Early in the evening crowds congregated on the street near the hall and talked with great anticipation of the able discussions of the issues of the day, both local and national. They were not destined to be disappointed. Men understanding the policies of the government better than the three speakers would indeed be hard to find. They arrived in the city on the afternoon trains and were escorted to the Hotel Metropole by the reception committee, composed of J. W. McQueen, Charles McGregor and Thomas Ferguson.

Manley's band, of East Liverpool, paraded the streets an hour previous to the opening of the meeting and the music that was played lent enchantment to the occasion. One most impressive fact connected with the addresses of each of the orators was their repeatedly calling the attention of the enthusiastic crowd to the fact that they lived in one of the most historic districts in the entire United States, made so by having been the home of the idolized and brilliant minded McKinley. The tributes paid the late president were so very appropriate and struck a popular chord that no other reference would have wrought.

Supt. of Schools J. L. McDonald acted as chairman of the meeting and carried out the part in his usual easy and graceful manner. He expressed himself as feeling greatly honored at having the pleasure of introducing the speakers and gave them each a hearty welcome, voicing the sentiment of the people. Hon. James Kennedy, who has been chosen to represent the grand old Eighteenth district in congress, opened the meeting and for fully an hour held the audience to the closest attention, his remarks being so full of honest and logical arguments on the paramount topics of discussion at every fire side in the district. He was followed by Secretary of State Laylin and ex-Congressman Brown.

Mr. Kennedy spoke as follows: There are two great questions of paramount interest which should receive our careful consideration. The first of these is, "Should the American policy of protection be continued?" To those living in the district of McKinley, having heard the argument upon that subject as it has doubtless fallen from his lips in this same audience hall, little argument should be needed. Remember that he, the great apostle of protection in America, predicted our great prosperity and told you that it would follow as a result of the adoption of the policy and principles of protection. He predicted also the depression, disaster and ruin that would follow the striking down of the protective system and that depression and poverty with its idle factories and mills, with its want and wretchedness, with its

A SERIOUS BREAK IN THE GAS MAINS

The Cause of Great Inconvenience to Fort Pitt Company Patrons.

All Sorts of Expedients Resorted to in Order to Heat Houses And Cook. Manufacturing Plants Badly Crippled.

A bad break in the lines of the Fort Pitt Gas company, near Brilliant, early this morning has caused irretrievable loss to merchants and manufacturers and untold inconvenience to private consumers in this vicinity.

Those in charge of the local office of the company were unable to explain the cause or the extent of the break, but assured those who called that repairs would be completed within a few hours.

Wellsville, which depends almost entirely upon the Fort Pitt for its gas supply, is placed in a very bad condition.

Manufacturing establishments, using the gas engine were compelled to close down, and not a little suffering was occasioned to private consumers through lack of heat and their inability to operate cooking stoves.

In this city the shortage of gas was not so noticeable, since the great majority of the consumers in the city proper are subscribers of the other line.

The break in the mains of the Fort Pitt Gas company has affected almost the entire East End. This morning the early risers met with failure when they attempted to light the gas and were compelled to dress in the dark and cold. Later when the housewives began to prepare the morning meal there was another disappointment. Old stoves were resurrected and hastily put into commission and dry boxes, fence rails and other inflammable materials were conscripted. In houses where the gas stoves were the only provision for cooking, the occupants were compelled to take a "Jack-bite" from what had been left over from the evening meal, and then hurry away to their work.

The gas company would answer no telephone calls and their East End patrons were in the dark this morning as to the extent of the break and the length of time necessary to repair it. The potteries were not affected as they are supplied by the Ohio Valley company, but outside of a few subscribers along the main to the plants all houses are supplied by the Fort Pitt.

Oil stoves were in great demand at the East End hardware stores this morning by people who have been depending entirely on gas for cooking and heating purposes. Overcoats and wraps were much in evidence among the clerks and merchants.

Settlement Effected.

President A. S. Hughes, of the N. B. of O. P., returned last evening from Ford City, where he was called to adjust a difference that had arisen in the handling and warehouse departments of the Ford City China company. The settlement was easily arranged and everything is now satisfactory.

ACTIVE WORKERS ALL OVER TOWN

Republicans in the City Are Entering on Earnest Campaign Work.

NO MEETINGS TO BE HELD

But Earnest Effort Will Nevertheless Be Put Forth to Arouse the Voters. Another Meeting of Committee Friday Night.

When the decision was arrived at by the republican city committee last Friday night to appoint and put to work sub-committees in the various sections of the city, it seems no time was lost in carrying out the plan. There are at present earnest and aggressive workers out all over the town, and they are working voters at every turn.

It has been definitely decided that no meeting will be held here during the present campaign. There are several reasons for this. In the first place there was no suitable hall accessible, and on the other hand, aside from Candidate Kennedy himself, who was very anxious to come to East Liverpool, no other first-class speaker could be secured. The East Liverpool committee has endeavored for years to secure Senator J. B. Foraker, for a speech in this city, but the state and national committees have always kept him busy in some other section where the result was more in doubt. Had it been possible to arrange for a meeting to be addressed by Mr. Kennedy and Senator Foraker, East Liverpool would have experienced a revival of political enthusiasm not known in years.

However, Mr. Kennedy proposes to spend several days here before the campaign closes, and it is certain he will make a good impression.

The city committee will meet again Friday night, and at that time the situation will be gone over from reports to be made by both committeemen and sub-committeemen. The body will then be able to proceed with the work of getting out the vote in an intelligent and successful manner.

FOWLER VS. LA BELLE

Interesting And Complicated Case Decided in Justice McLane's Court.

Squire McLane has rendered a decision in the case of Fowler against LaBelle, the man who rented a stand privilege at Columbian park during the week of the fair. Fowler, it will be remembered, received a judgment against LaBelle and LaBelle was stopped from paying the money by a Mr. Miller, who claimed that the paraphernalia attached belonged to him and not LaBelle.

In giving a decision the squire stated that inasmuch as Miller was present at the time that Fowler made the contract with LaBelle he forfeited his rights to the tents, etc. As a result the tents will be sold at public sale.

Will Get His Freedom.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special).—Ed Snider, who was fined in Mayor Farrell's court Monday, succeeded in raising enough money to pay up, and will avoid a term in the works.

NO CONCESSIONS GIVEN UNLESS FOR EQUIVALENT

CONTRACTORS TO FIGHT BUILDING ORDINANCE

From 8 o'clock until 10:30 the council last night occupied the time in discussions which amounted to little else than the consumption of time. In the last 15 minutes more actual business was transacted than throughout the remainder of the session. The most important action taken was the determination on the part of the council to compel the Pennsylvania company to grant many and extensive concessions ere it will be permitted to cross the streets and alleys of the city with its double track system.

The building permit and indemnifying ordinance was put on its second reading without a word of comment. Mr. Peach introduced a resolution, the text of which was published in the News Review several days ago, which will rid the river shore of every houseboat in the vicinity. According to the resolution Mayor Davidson is to serve written notice upon the owners of the boats to vacate the city's property within 10 days.

By the proper action an amount aggregating $5,349.55 was transferred from several street improvement funds to the general sinking fund.

H. E. Grosshaus, C. H. Blazier and J. J. Weisend were elected as a board of equalization upon the Pennsylvania avenue improvement.

At this juncture three plats of land which it was proposed to have the city accept, were presented to the council by Chairman Bullock, of the street committee. They consisted of that of the Midway Land company, the fourth addition of the Puritan company and the second addition of the East Liverpool Land company. Mr. Bullock reported that the plats had been gone over and the territory viewed, but that in no case had the provisions or ordinance No. 465 been complied with to the letter. It will be remembered the ordinance calls for the grading of all streets, the bridging of streams and the placing of monument stones before the plat of any land company can be accepted. Mr. Bullock reported that the owners had promised to make the necessary improvements, and while he thought the ordinance was too strong, still with the understanding that the work would be done, he might recommend the acceptance of the plats.

The discussion was lengthy and resulted in a small portion of the Midway Land company's possessions being accepted. The portion taken in by the motion included only those lots bordering upon streets which have already been improved. The other two plats were referred back to the street committee.

Councilman Barlow reported the properties of Thomas Chadwick and Mrs. Surles on Grant street in very bad shape in consequence of grading. A special committee, consisting of Messrs. Barlow, Orr and Thomas, was appointed to endeavor to adjust the difficulty.

Since the new parochial school has been erected on Fifth street, the condition of Summit lane and Persimmon alley had rendered it impossible to keep the water out of the cellar, and the building was in bad sanitary condition other ways. A petition was presented asking that these alleys be improved. The petition was accepted and the solicitor and engineer were instructed to draw up the necessary resolution.

Mr. Bullock, of the railroad committee, made a report giving an idea of

BOLD ROBBERY

Followed by Cowardly Attempt to Fix the Crime Upon
a Child.

Fearing conviction for committing a most daring robbery, some unknown person of this city has resorted to a despicable and cowardly deed, attempting to sully the fair name of the child of a family too highly respected and honored to allow for a moment any breath of suspicion to rest upon them or theirs.

The origination of the fact dates back several weeks, occurring at the home of Capt. J. A. Myers, and James Hill, on Fifth street, at the conclusion of a reception given by Mrs. Myers to a large number of her lady acquaintances. On the afternoon of the affair Mrs. Hill was made the victim of a theft under circumstances which were very mysterious.

Mrs. Hill had assisted along with possibly a dozen ladies in receiving the guests and when all had departed for their homes she retired to her apartments up stairs for a few moments. Going to her bedroom she laid a diamond ring, valued at $150, down on a dresser stand, together with other rings of less value, and went out. She was absent from the room, perhaps five minutes, and when she returned she was stricken almost dumb upon reaching for the costly piece of jewelry and finding that it had disappeared. Too considerate to make an assertion when she was wholly without grounds, Mrs. Hill, instead of immediately heralding the loss, kept it a secret. But feeling that it was an imposition on herself to allow the guilty one to have possession of her property she later commenced an investigation.

The guilty party must surely have become aware that the suspicion was being centered, for under no other circumstances would he or she have attempted to shift the crime. Close inquiry was made by Mrs. Hill company with Mrs. Carpenter, were in this city last evening, and, it is said, were drinking. After an uncertain time last evening Green remembers nothing, and it is supposed that he was drugged, and while under the influence of the medicine was robbed. He had the rings and money in his pocket when he started out with Mrs. Carpenter. This morning he awoke in a stable belonging to Arch Severs and cannot account for having landed there, not having the least knowledge of ever crossing the bridge.

CHARGED WITH THEFT

CHESTER WOMAN ARRESTED AT NEIGHBOR'S INSTANCE.

Accused of Stealing Rings from a Brother of the Complainant.

Charged with stealing two rings valued at $15 and a small amount of money, Mrs. Blanche Carpenter, living on Virginia avenue, Chester, was arrested this afternoon, the warrant for her arrest being issued this morning in Justice Johnston's court and sworn to by Mrs. Belle Bowers, of Fifth street.

In the affidavit Mrs. Carpenter is accused of stealing the above articles from a brother of Mrs. Bowers, William Green, a mill worker. Green, in Woman Taken to Asylum.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special).—Mrs. C. P. Leonard, wife of the sheriff, went to Salineville this morning and accompanied Mrs. Mary A. Johnson to the asylum.

HANGED IN CELL

Prof. William Pfankuch Desperately Planned Suicide and Nearly Succeeded.

Hanging by the neck, his head fastened between a chain and an iron bar in a cell at the city hall this afternoon, Prof. William Pfankuch, the musician arrested Monday evening and released yesterday morning, and who was arrested again this morning for strange actions committed on Sunnyside, was found by Health Officer Burgess and Officer Dawson, with practically the last spark of life ready to depart.

He was so near death when discovered that for an hour afterwards he was unable to give an explanation of his rash act. He then stated that it was only because he was tired of life. His troubles have not come singly, he averred. Since, as he says, his wife cruelly deserted him, the particulars which were published exclusively in last evening's issue of the News Review, he has been despondent and upon every occasion possible he has resorted to intoxicating liquor in the hope that he could drown his troubles. Drink has a terrible effect on him, driving him mad at times. It was thought yesterday that he was on the verge of insanity but he promising to get out of the city it was considered good policy to let him go. It seems that upon being released he continued his drinking. He was seen this morning roaming like a crazy man, and the police were telephoned to, asking that he be arrested.

He was not placed under the care of a physician when extricated from between the irons but an application of water was put into use. Much trouble was encountered in reviving him, and he is now in a precarious condition. His eyes are puffed far out onto his cheeks and his head is much swollen. If he recovers sufficiently he will be taken to the depot and sent to Pittsburg.

ROLEY VERSUS ATEN

Two Suits in Common Pleas Court Between Wellsville Litigants Disposed Of.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special).—The case of Andrew Roley, of Wellsville, against George M. Aten, was tried today. The plaintiff in his first cause of action asked for $5,000 damages for malicious prosecution. This was dismissed.

In the second cause of action Roley asked for possession of a coal bank. This was decided in favor of Aten.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

A PRIMITIVE POTTERY.

Far away in the southwest prairies of Chicago is situated a small pottery. The stockholders, laborers, sales agents and profit sharers of the company are Emmanuel Duschek and his family. The clay from which his wares are made is dug out of a hole in the back yard and is mixed with a small quantity of finer grade of clay brought from Michigan. The family horse turns the revolving wheel which crushes the clay and prepares it for use. Herr Duschek & Son further run it through a roller, which renders it smooth, and in a fit condition for the manipulation. An old time potter's wheel is used for turning out the pots, and with delicate manipulation of finger and thumb a lump of clay assumes the most graceful shapes at the will of Herr Duschek. Flower pots are also moulded by a machine. The kiln is in the horse's stable and its capacity is from 5,000 to 6,000 pots. This is fired up every two or three weeks, when enough wares are accumulated to effect one burning. The lady of the house acts as sales agent, the daughter runs the necessary errands and the dog guards the precious wares while the father does the honors of the plant to those who come to see him. Mr. Duschek is utilitarian, but his hanging and standing vases have a richness of color and gracefulness of design which render them especially attractive to consumers in art wares and obtain for them a ready sale.

POTTERY INTERESTS SAFE.

Eighteenth (Ohio) district politics are sized up in an editorial in the Glass and Pottery World, which says in part: "The manufacturing potters of the middle states and, indeed, of the entire United States, can breathe a sigh of relief. In harmony with the advice offered by the World the members of the Western Manufacturers' association, collaborating with other manufacturing interests of the Eighteenth Ohio Congressional district joined forces, and to such purpose that the bugaboo of a joint labor and Democratic congressional candidate for the vacancy made by the resignation of Congressman Robt. W. Taylor is dispelled and those who were fearful of any molestation of present tariff conditions at the hands of the coming congress, abetted by the member from the Eighteenth district, are now resting content. The solution of the problem is contained in the fact that by reason of both Democratic and Labor tickets presenting a congressional ticket in the field, the election of the Republican congressman is assured beyond peradventure, and the Eighteenth district will have as a successor to the great McKinley and the assiduous Taylor again a pledged big-tariff representative. Until the American manufacturer of china can be assured of more than 50 per cent. of the American market, his vigilance and his most strenuous efforts must be directed to placing and keeping high-tariff congressmen as representatives in the national congress."

HUGHES THE DELEGATE.

In all human probability President A. S. Hughes will be the delegate from the N. B. of O. P. to the convention of the American Federation of Labor which is to meet in New Orleans next month. John Gould, who is the regularly selected delegate, has lately accepted a situation as foreman of the Canonsburg China company, and is thus disqualified, the constitution prohibiting him from remaining on the active list. He can, however, become an honorary member. President Hughes and Leroy Orr were the alternates selected and as the latter has lately given up the trade for good he too is disqualified. The convention next month at New Orleans is one of vast moment to the artisans of the United States as there will be many questions up before it. Understanding, as he does so thoroughly, every detail of the pottery business, President Hughes is well equipped to represent the National Brotherhood.

NEW DECORATORS.

Fifteen new girls have been taken on in the decorating rooms at Brunt's during the last week. The newcomers are about evenly divided between the decalcomania department and the regular shop and will assist materially in promptly filling orders for decorated ware which have been uncommonly large and numerous of late. Miss Eva Stone, the forelady of the decalcomania department, is handling her increased force in a masterly manner in spite of the fact that the shop is somewhat crowded.

RUNNING WELL.

The Harberton pottery is running full and the results are all or more than was expected. Everything about this model plant works to perfection, from the engine room to the packing department. A very fine grade of ware is being turned out and a few kinds of art pottery have been made. It is the aim of the concern to add two kilns in the spring and in all probability a separate plant for the manufacture of art pottery.

WILL BUILD A HOME.

Howard Leslie, a well known packer, employed at Harker's, has purchased a piece of land containing about two acres and situated a short distance from the Rock Springs park and will build himself a comfortable home. It is his intention to have the work commenced as soon as possible.

A COON ROUNDUP.

William Messer and Harvey Barnhart, of the Union; George Perry, of the Albion house, and Jonah Barnhart spent a couple of days last week hunting over in West Virginia. They had a big coon hunt one night and rounded up five and the next day killed 18 rabbits and five birds.

MR. ROBERTS OUT AGAIN.

John Roberts, the genial and efficient manager of the decorating room at Wm. Brunt's, is back again after a long seige with typhoid fever, though still too weak to resume his duties. John Harrison, who has been in charge of the shop during Mr. Roberts' illness, will remain until he has fully recovered.

FIRST TO FALL ILL.

Frank Sells, an odd man at Laughlin No. 2, is reported sick today. He is a member of the Laughlin Sick and Death Benefit society, and the first of its members to fall ill since the organization, six weeks ago. The society now has 52 members.

CHOPPED OFF A FINGER.

The 4-year-old son of George Hales, a presser at McNicol's, severed the forefinger of his left hand while playing with a hatchet the other day. The finger was taken off at the second joint, making a very painful wound.

CALLED TO PITTSBURGH.

INCREASED ATTENDANCE

At the Public Schools This Month
Shown By Supt. Raymond's Report.

Prof. R. E. Rayman presents this month a report which is worthy of particular notice. In speaking of school attendance the superintendent holds that prompt and regular attendance of pupils is a very essential factor, for where there is regular attendance there is, as a rule, excellent work. The entire enrollment in the city school for the month is: Boys, 1,454, girls 1,496; whereas for last month the boys numbered 1,398 and the girls 1,433. This shows constant growth of the schools.

The per cent of attendance for October was boys 93, girls 93; tardiness, boys 89, girls 79; honor roll for the month, boys 710, girls 776.

The report is a very satisfactory one, and all parents are urged to have their children in school each day during the next month.

Ripe And Luscious, Picked From the Warner Farm Near Columbiana.

Youngstown, October 29.—Youngstown people have been privileged to view several quarts of large, ripe strawberries, fine as they were in the heart of the season, in July. The berries are in the window of Dr. H. H. Mofford, and were picked by Grant Warner from his berry farm near Columbiana. It is the second crop this year, and the remarkable weather for the past two weeks is responsible for the fruit maturing.

Two gallons of the luscious berries were picked on the farm Sunday, and are of the finest quality and flavor. The display attracted considerable attention today, and many marveled when they viewed the sight.

NO GREAT CROWDS

Youngstown Workers Do Not Appear to Enthuse Over the Duffy Campaign.

Thomas J. Duffy, the Labor candidate for congress in the Eighteenth district, was not greeted with the great crowd of followers who were to come from Alliance, Sebring and Beloit Saturday night. The fact that a special train was to be run from Alliance was freely advertised and it was expected to have some 200 men, with a band in line.

But there was no band, no delegation and no train. The train did not run because the delegations could not be got together in all the three towns out together, says the Youngstown Telegram. The directors of Duffy's campaign were lamenting the fact that the train was not run.

"They demanded a guarantee of 200," said Charles Bonsall, "and we couldn't give it."

Duffy, aided by Billy Radcliffe, the Democratic candidate for sheriff, as "barker," pulled off the meeting on Central square Saturday night.

PRESENTED A BANNER

Second Presbyterian Church Gift to Young People's Societies' Convention.

Miss Lida Farrar, of Ohio avenue, and Mrs. John Grant, of Pennsylvania avenue, left last evening to attend the convention of the societies of the Steubenville presbytery at Uhrichsville. They are delegates from the Second Presbyterian church. The convention was held last evening and Mrs. Grant had a number on the program, "Junior Flashlights."

The delegates were also entrusted with a banner made by the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Second Presbyterian church, which they presented to the convention. The banner was made of red satin with a monogram in gold and on it, in white letters, were the words "The World for Christ." The banner was presented to commemorate the fact that the society last year had the largest membership and were the largest contributors to the various boards of the presbytery.

Robert Larkins was painfully injured yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock while exercising his spirited young colt. He was mounting the sulky on St. George street when the colt began kicking viciously and struck him on the shoulder with both hoofs. He was unconscious for a few minutes and later was taken to Dr. Davis' office, where his injuries were examined. It was found that no bones were broken.

soup houses and with its millions and millions of sorrowful, idle men, came promptly as predicted, and was with us from '92 to '97. Look back over the history of the country and see with what regularity the transitions came from prosperity to depression whenever the Democrats came into power; how again business revived, how the factory fires were lighted up; how the hum of industry filled all the land, how depression and sadness and despair gave place to hope and joy and gladness when the nation gave protection to its great industries.

During Cleveland's last administration of incompetency and ruin Americans were humiliated by the spectacle of their nation borrowing money in a time of profound peace to pay the current expenses of government. The public prints all over the land were filled with reports of failure and disaster. In the great city of Youngstown we went to the legislature of the state and secured authority to expend a large sum of money in the improvements of our park so that the thousands of the strong, honest working men of our city might earn a loaf of bread for their wives and children without being humiliated by asking alms.

PROSPERITY IS NOT AN ACCIDENT.

Will it be said that tariff legislation had nothing to do with these conditions? William McKinley foretold them all with precision and exactness long before the event, and the calm judgment of history will be that it was not because he was a prophet but because he was a statesman. So with our present prosperity. We repudiate the theory that it is accidental and how great our present prosperity is few are able to appreciate. The balance of trade in our favor since President McKinley's election and the adoption of our present protective tariff bill is greater five or six times over than the balance of trade in our favor during the entire century and a quarter of our existence before. The money that came to our shores in excess of that which was sent abroad for the purchase of goods reached the enormous aggregate of two and a half billions of dollars.

The tonnage of the single city of Pittsburg last year exceeded the combined tonnage of all the principal cities of continental Europe. Our internal commerce has become so vast that figures almost fail to express its enormous volume. Over in our city of Youngstown today our mills are full of orders for eighteen months in advance. Orders for immediate delivery in some lines command prices twenty-five per cent in advance of regular rates. There is today a freight blockade in every great city in the land and our furnaces in the Mahoning valley are compelled to shut down occasionally because the railroads are unable to handle the freight. Happiness and plenty everywhere abound as never before in the world's history.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CAMPAIGN DOCUMENT.

This is the Republican view of our prosperity which our great party urges you to support and sustain. I hold in my hand a paper which was circulated on the streets of Youngstown last Saturday evening at a meeting held by one of the congressional candidates in this Eighteenth district. The caption of this paper reads as follows: "Union labor campaign document No. 2. Voters of the Eighteenth district vote for Thomas Duffy for Congress, etc." This extraordinary political document appears to have been printed at Salem, Ohio. You remember some years ago it was thought that too many foreigners were coming to these shores and that some means should be devised to restrict immigration. It has occurred to me that if the campaign literature which is annually sent out in this country by the great amalgamated association of discontented political growlers were circulated in all foreign countries, and that no other reports of our magnificent country could reach those shores, that immigration would stop immediately. I wish to read from this extraordinary document what my opponent thinks of our prosperity.

"Prosperity! To Morgan and Rockefeller thy name is legion, indeed, but to the great mass who produce the wealth and work overtime, with scarce an advance in wage, and the cost of living under trust rule nearly double, thy name is a sham, a mockery, a broken reed, an insult to every self-respecting American citizen. To the 40,000 little children in the southern cotton mills offering up their tender lives an unwilling sacrifice to the savagism of New England avarice and Wall street gamblers, at $1.92 per week, and this miserable pittance devoured by company stores, thy name is but the emblem of the skull and cross bones, dripping with the blood of tender innocence.

This paper (The American Worker) my countrymen, is a direct invocation to those blackest of demons that curse the human soul—malice, hate and envy; an appeal to those evil passions which are said to have had power to drag the very angels from high heaven down. I cannot but express surprise that anyone should think that voters would act more wisely at the polls with their minds blinded by passions and anger than when influenced by those kinder sentiments and virtues which, if our faith be true, can lift poor mortals to the skies.

A REMARKABLE DOCTRINE.

Our attention has been called to a circular headed "Union Labor Campaign Document No. 2," which bears an Alliance date and is being circulated by the Duffy workers in the Eighteenth district. We are surprised that a man of Mr. Duffy's good sense should allow such a document to go forth in his name with the expectation that it will aid his political fortunes. However, he is young in politics. The whole drift and tenor of this remarkable campaign document is that prosperity is non-existent, and that to the great mass who produce the wealth of the land the name is "a sham, a mockery, a broken reed, an insult to every self-respecting American citizen." To quote further: "To the tens of thousands of miserable men, women and children in this class-ridden nation, eking out a bare existence in a land where there is plenty for all, the very sound of thy prostituted name is like unto the hissing of a venomous reptile." Again, it is stated that both to the miner and the farmer, the words protection and prosperity are "as hollow and senseless as some sepulchral inscription upon the crumbling tombs of a channel house, deserted and forlorn."

Rot! If this is the doctrine for which the name of Duffy stands, who is there that wants to hear more of it? It is an insult to intelligent workmen to ask them to disbelieve the evidence of their own eyes and ears and not to be impressed by the result of their own experience. It is probably true, as the circular asserts, that some classes of labor are still insufficiently paid; but is it a remedy for this condition to propose to destroy the industry which supports them and give them no work and no pay at all? That the trusts are prosperous seems to be the chief grievance of this circular writer, and to keep the trusts from amassing wealth he would rob the poor of any possibility of doing likewise.

Prosperity a myth and a mockery? Look at the homes owned by the wage earners of East Liverpool; look at their bank accounts, the comforts and the pleasures they enjoy, and ask them whether they are prosperous or not. Ask them how they would like to return to the days that followed the enactment of the Wilson bill, when they were glad to accept a day's work at any price, and instead of jobs hunting men, as in the case all over the city today, there were twenty men ready to accept any sort of job that promised to earn them a dollar. Articles of clothing and food are higher than they were, but who but a fool would not rather have them so, with money in his pocket to buy, than to have them cheap and have no means of getting them? Men who believe prosperity a myth and would destroy it will vote for Democracy and free trade; but men who thus believe are going to be scarcer than ever in East Liverpool this fall.

VOTE THE STRAIGHT TICKET.

Nice thing it would be, wouldn't it, if the friends and admirers of Mr. Duffy, by their complimentary votes for him, should land the strong Republican city of East Liverpool in the Democratic column? This would not change the result, for James Kennedy will certainly be elected to congress; but the possibility of such a thing occurring should make the voters pause. Tariff revision will certainly be undertaken or attempted by the next congress. In what shape would the pottery manufacturers and pottery workers of this city be to ask favors at the hands of a congress if it should be recorded that East Liverpool gave a majority for a Democrat? If the voters would safeguard their interests and be in a position to have their demands and wishes heeded, their only rational and reasonable course is to stand by the party which has always stood by them. Complimentary votes for Duffy cannot help him, and no man who wishes to keep his party record blameless will desire to pose as an assistant Democrat, or help the Democratic party to gain any advantage, any foothold or anything to boast of in this city. Those who act otherwise can do no good, but they can work incalculable harm. Vote the straight ticket.

The Republican voters of Wellsville and vicinity and all others who came out to listen had a feast of oratory at the enthusiastic meeting held last evening. All the speeches were eloquent and effective. We print the speech of Congressional Candidate Kennedy in full, confident that Republican readers who may not have an opportunity to hear him during the campaign will peruse it with interest. It is an able, thoughtful and earnest speech, and should make every Republican feel proud and satisfied that its author is to be the next representative in congress from this district, which has long been conspicuous for the brainy and brilliant qualities of its congressmen.

In a column of incoherent raving over the exposure which the News Review made of the Crisis' practice of stealing news from early copies of our paper, that sheet does not attempt to deny the charge. It cannot unless it would stand convicted of lying as well as of theft. We made no charge until in possession of the facts to back up what we said. We repeat that the Crisis is a thief, and with that statement submit the case to the jury that is to pass upon it—the public.

AT THE THEATER

Manager Tom Roe. Have you noticed upon the many bill boards throughout the city the coming of Dave B. Lewis' big production, "Uncle Josh Spruceby"? This rural comedy, with its sensational and thrilling saw-mill scene will be at the Grand opera house, Thursday evening, October 30, and with it, as manager, will be found a well known and much thought of citizen of East Liverpool, Mr. Thomas Roe. Tom also plays a cornet dextrously in the band, and it is dollars to doughnuts that his friends will be on hand to give him a rousing welcome and one of the largest houses of the season. Invest in a ticket to see "Uncle Josh Spruceby" and you will then please Tom, and receive a dividend of one hundred per cent of satisfaction and fun.

The Every Church, Boston.
Messrs. Brady & Grismer.
Managers "Way Down East" Co. Gentlemen:

I had the pleasure last night of seeing "Way Down East," and I cannot forbear expressing my gratification with the spirit and purpose of the play. That the theater can make money out of such a play seems to me a hopeful sign of the times. It ought to encourage managers to experiment yet a little further along this line. I venture to believe that if this kind of work were more common, there would be among Christian people less criticism of the modern theater.

GEO. L. PERIN, Pastor.

On Saturday, November 1, at the Grand, Lincoln J. Carter's greatest scenic production "The New Fast Mail" will be the attraction. Mr. Carter has brought into effect in "The Fast Mail" a thoroughly consistent railroad story, brimful of comedy and laughable situations. The climaxes of each act are wonderfully strong and the play increases in interest from start to finish, strong specialties are introduced and there is not a dull moment from rise to fall of the curtain.

There is every indication that Jule Walter's new version of "Side Track" will be well attended at the Grand on Friday night. This attraction is certainly head and heels over all similar ones on the road and deserves its well earned success. The many years that this play has stood the test speaks well for its laugh-making qualities. Mr. Walters promises several funny specialties and new mechanical effects.

"A Thoroughbred Tramp" was greeted by a big house at the Grand last night, and the performance was very satisfactory. The plot centered around the quest of vengeance of a New York merchant who had fallen until he became a tramp, as the result of the machinations of a mysterious enemy. It abounded in numerous incidents in which the tramp was the principal factor.

what the Pennsylvania company wanted at the hands of the city. He stated the committee had decided to recommend that the council grant the company permission to lay a switch from the east side of an alley near the Thompson property to a point west of Reiston crossing. The council did not agree with the committee and thought if any concessions were to be secured from the railway people it would be advisable to begin before anything was given them by the city. From the lengthy discussion that followed it was evident that the body had some doubt as to whether the present committee was competent to cope with the railway officials, and a motion was made that the committee be enlarged so as to include every member of the council. This motion lost, and another was made that the old committee be discharged and that a committee of five be appointed, the president to be included. The motion prevailed and the committee will consist of Messrs. Peach, Bullock, McConnell, Marshall and Nicé.

Attorney J. H. Brookes was present on behalf of the building contractors of the city, and when given permission to do so explained to the council that the proposed ordinance to require the taking out of building permits and compelling contractors to indemnify the city against liability from damage suits, was illegal. Attorney Brookes had prepared a brief which contained a supreme court decision, and he proposed to leave that with the city solicitor, feeling sure that he would, after carefully considering, agree with the contractors and Mr. Brookes that the ordinance would not hold. After Mr. Brookes had finished Member Peach took the floor and said:

"When that ordinance was framed the members of council who were interested in its passage had the best interests of the city at heart. Their purpose was not to injure anyone, but to protect the taxpayer against having his money used in paying damage claims. Now, gentlemen, we were very careful to have the provisions of the measure conform to the law in every particular. I don't want you to lose sight of the fact that Mr. Brookes is paid to come here, and it is his purpose to put up the best argument possible."

"That is true," replied Mr. Brookes, "but it is equally true that I have not made a statement here that I am unable to bring before the court and obtain a favorable decision upon."

The matter will receive attention at the hands of the solicitor.

The Sevrès China company had a proposition which, if accepted, would solve the problem of disposing of the hot water at its plant. The company proposed to stand half the expense of constructing sewers to carry the water over the river bank. The city was to bear the remaining expense. The proposition was accepted.

Attorney Grosshans, representing the residents of Springdale street, asked that a walk be constructed for several hundred feet on that thoroughfare. His clients would either furnish the material or do the work. It was decided that the street commissioner should lay the walk and that the residents supply whatever lumber would be required.

CHAMPION POOL PLAYER

W. H. Clearwater Gives a Very Interesting Exhibition of His Skill.

W. H. Clearwater, of Ellwood City, Pa., who is the champion pool player of America, gave an exhibition of his skill last evening at Campbell's billiard parlors on Main street. Mr. Clearwater played a continuous game of pool with Carl Cope, one of the local experts. Six frames were played and Mr. Cope succeeded in setting but two balls of the 30 played Roy Daughaday, another local player, then took Mr. Cope's cue. Daughaday succeeded in making seven of the balance of 60 balls required to make the 150 agreed upon by Mr. Clearwater. On only three different occasions during the game did the champion make a scratch shot, which is considered remarkable.

After the game was over Mr. Clearwater gave an exhibition in fancy shots, all of which were well applauded by the large crowd present. This was followed by several finger shots which were of a high order.

Mr. Clearwater has one of the best records in winning pool tournaments and championship games of any pool player in the world. In 1896 he defeated Jerome Keogh at the Great Northern billiard hall in Pittsburgh and won the world's championship, together with a purse of $1,000. This year he won first prize and retained the world's championship in a tournament at "The Montauk," in Brooklyn, N. Y. His highest continuous run is 125 balls. This run he made on a 42x9 table at Urichsville.

PLACING NEW RAILS

The Street Railway Company at Last Proceeding With the Much Needed Work.

The East Liverpool Railway company, which for some time has been holding up the paving work on Liverpool street by not placing new girder rails in the center of the street according to the order of the city council, is at last making progress with the work and it is expected the required stretch of track will be completed in a few weeks.

A force of men is kept at work daily and has thus far succeeded in laying nearly three hundred feet of the track. Work could be started at once on the paving by Contractor Freshwater were he assured of the continued progress of the street car company with its part of the work.

VETERANS AND SONS

Entertainment Given By Garfield Camp Last Night a Grand Success.

It was a great night for the veterans and the Sons of Veterans. Garfield camp, S. of V., gave an entertainment and banquet, that has rarely been eclipsed for enjoyable features. It took place at G. A. R. hall and fully 100 members of the G. A. R. and of the Sons of Veterans were present.

A substantial meal was spread on beautifully decorated tables and an enjoyable program was carried out. S. T. Herbert presided. Rev. S. P. Salmon, who had been expected, could not be present and John J. Rose delivered the address of welcome. In a patriotic and impressive speech he bade the civil war veterans welcome to the table of the sons.

Rev. J. W. Gorrell responded in a humorous and eloquent speech. D. J. Smith spoke for the G. A. R., saying it did his heart good to meet so many young men. It carried him back to the days of the war. The inalienable right of freedom and equality, the pursuit of life, liberty and happiness intended by the early patriots had been maintained. The flag conceived by woman, baptized in the blood of the patriots at Brandywine, insulted at Charleston was dedicated forever to the principle that men should love one another.

Colonel F. W. Meyers, responding to the toast, "The Relation of the S. of V. to the G. A. R.," told some amusing stories and called attention to the fact that the evening was the anniversary of 13 important events. It had been an unlucky event for Great Britain that 13 colonies concluded to throw off the yoke of oppression. October 28, 1776, Washington was defeated by Howe, which taught the patriots caution and caused a renewal of ambition. Twelve important battles of the civil war occurred on the same day of the year. He told of the aims of the Sons of Veterans. The local camp consisted of over 60 members, was the largest in the state, next to the oldest, and had held more meetings than any other camp of the same organization in the state.

Squire J. N. Rose delivered a very enthusiastic address in praise of the young men. They had been of invaluable assistance to General Lyon post-re dwelt upon the lessons that had been learned that the stability of American institutions that had resulted in the war of the rebellion.

Rev. Dr. Pratt was called on and made an excellent speech, sparkling with wit and good sense. Selections by the Mandolin club were a pleasing feature of the program.

A VERY EASY VICTIM

Man from West Virginia Mourns Loss of Money Lent a Pretty Girl.

One of the easiest fellows that ever drifted into East Liverpool was in the city last Sunday, coming over from Chester, where he is employed as a laborer. Sunday evening he approached Chief Thompson and implored the officer to assist him in recovering some money which had been gained he thought by unfair means. After listening to the man's story the chief told him that there were people in every city looking for just such marks as he, and that he had no remedy for the case.

The fact as related by the sucker follows: "This afternoon I was in a house on Broadway with the prettiest girl you ever saw. She told me how much she loved me and then asked me if I could not lend her 50 cents. I thought she was as sweet as can be found, and reached down in my pocket for the gift. I had nothing smaller than a $2 bill, and before handing it to her I said: 'Now, will you be hon-

SETTLEMENT IS NEAR

Between the Globe Pottery Jiggermen And Their Employers.

There has been no settlement as yet of the difference between the jiggermen at the Globe pottery and the East Liverpool Pottery company, the operators of the plant. Jiggermen's local No. 12 met in regular session last night and the trouble was the principal topic of conversation. The special committee appointed last Monday night had a conference with the company, but no decision was reached and they so reported.

The local has approved the action of the jiggermen in refusing to work with the clay furnished them. President Hughes, of the N. B. of O. P., was present at the meeting last night. The difficulty will be settled as soon as possible and may be referred to the arbitration committee.

AMERICA DEFERS TO FEELING.

Plan to Establish One at Havana Abandoned, but Other Three Not Likely to Be Given Up—Belief Treaty Will Be Ready For Congress

Washington, Oct. 29.—The fact recorded in the news dispatches from Havana that President Palma has returned to Washington the draft of the reciprocity treaty without his approval has not shaken the belief of the officials here that they will have a treaty ready to submit to congress by the date of its next meeting. As soon as Mr. Quesada, the Cuban minister here, receives the document he will submit it to Secretary Hay. The latter already has knowledge of the objections found by the Cuban government. Then negotiations will be continued on the basis of the original draft, for it is explicitly stated that the proposition submitted by the state department was in no wise an ultimatum, and the matter is still open to adjustment. Generally stated, the Cuban objections are based on a belief that the United States has demanded undue concessions in the remission of duties on United States products entering Cuba, ranging all the way from 10 per cent to 80 per cent, in return for a 20 per cent cut on Cuban sugar and to bacco coming into the United States.

opinion at the state department that it can be settled amicably. If not, and the Cuban government insist upon terms that the state department cannot grant, the two countries will simply drift along without a trade treaty of this kind. As Cuba will undoubtedly be the principal sufferer it is expected here that she will be the first to make another advance toward a treaty.

There has been an important change in the program respecting the whole fabric of Cuban treaties. It had been originally intended to perfect a reciprocity treaty before undertaking to deal with other relations that must be defined by treaty. As it is now seen that the subject of reciprocity is one that will require considerable time for its disposition, the government here is about to undertake negotiations looking to the arrangement of an extradition treaty, which is very much needed, inasmuch as Cuba threatens to become a sink hole for American criminals. Also the navy is pressing for the coaling station promised under the terms of the Platt amendment, and the near approach of the Cuban manoeuvres has stimulated this desire, as it has been shown that such stations would be of great strategic value during the movements. Therefore, the Cuban government will be at once invited to open negotiations on this point.

Against Granting Coal Stations.

It is not expected that this can be done without some friction, because there has been a growing disinclination on the part of the Cubans to the idea of surrendering coaling stations to the United States. Proper sites for coaling stations were selected tentatively many months ago by Admiral Bradford, chief of the equipment bureau, who is directly in charge of naval coaling stations, one of the four points selected, one, Havana harbor, has been abandoned from regard for Cuban sensibility. It is not likely that further sacrifices of that kind will be made, and the other three points, namely, Nipe, on the north coast, and Cienfuegos and Guantanamo, on the south coast of the island, will be chosen as permanent locations.

REPLY MADE TO COLOMBIA.

Adjustment of Differences Expected Soon.

Washington, Oct. 29.—It was learned yesterday that a prompt answer had been made by the state department to the latest Colombian note respecting the Panama canal treaty, which was transmitted to the department Monday. Its nature was not divulged, but the presumption is that it deals almost entirely with Colombian representations regarding the sovereignty of the isthmus, which the Colombians feel has been seriously invaded by the acts of Commander McLean and Admiral Casey in preventing the prompt movement of troops across the railroad. This matter, as before stated, is now the subject of negotiations between the Colombian government and Minister Hart, at Bogota, and an early adjustment is looked for.

The state department is anxious that a speedy settlement be reached in order to facilitate the completion of the Panama canal treaty. Mr. Concha, the Colombian minister, has received ample and specific instructions empowering him to proceed in this matter, which has been retarded only by the controversy which has arisen regarding the transit of the isthmus.

MITCHELL DAY CELEBRATIONS

Were to Be Held in Nearly All Towns Throughout the Anthracite Region, Today.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 29.—In order that Mitchell day might be properly observed today there was a general suspension of mining. The operators would rather the men would have worked, but under the circumstances they are helpless in the matter. The superintendents of many of the collieries were notified yesterday that the employees would not report for work today. Many visitors were arriving last night to witness the demonstration in this city. There will be a street parade and mass meetings in nearly all the towns in the coal region.

Among those registered at the miners' headquarters last night were Rev. Powers, of Spring Valley, Ills.; "Mother" Jones and Organizer William Blakely, of Linton, Ind.; T. L. Wright, of Carbon, Ind.; Thomas Hagerty, of Reynoldsville, Pa. The latter will be the principal speaker at the meeting today. Mr. Mitchell and citizens and clergymen will ride in carriages in the parade. T. L. Lewis, vice president of the United Mine Workers, will be the orator of the day at the demonstration to be held at Hazleton.

The improved conditions of the mines was shown yesterday, when the output of coal was the largest since mining was resumed.

Ohio Man Appointed to the Place.

Indianapolis, Oct. 29.—Superintendent Hirt, of the Indiana state reformatory, at Jeffersonville, tendered his resignation to the board of control yesterday, to take effect as soon as possible. The board accepted the resignation and elected as his successor Secretary Roberts, of the Ohio state board of charities.

PORTER ADDRESSED FRENCH.

Paris, Oct. 29.—Ambassador Porter was present and made a speech last night at a banquet of French officials who have been connected with all foreign expositions. The dinner was given in the Hotel Continental, and many prominent persons were present. M. T. Bouillot, minister of commerce, presided. Ambassador Porter made a felicitous reference to the cordial friendship which has long existed between France and the United States. He said France should take a leading part in the St. Louis exposition, as the Louisiana Purchase was the most important negotiation ever consummated between the two countries. The ambassador's remarks were received warmly.

BLOOD POISON

On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the king of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted; so while it may not be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, itches of the skin, eruptions or blotches, ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, falling out of hair, disordered stomach, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old fog" treatment—beware of mineral poisons—beware of Quacks and Fakirs. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Bank Bonds will protect you. Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the disease and eliminates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and enriched, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels prepared anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. MISS ROSE OWENS,

No. 720 Seventeenth St., WASHINGTON, D. C.

"If every suffering woman has the same experience with Wine of Cardui that I had, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out tired feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only needed to take three bottles when I was fully recovered."

If you are a suffering woman we would say to you that Wine of Cardui seldom fails to completely cure any case of female ills. We say emphatically, it never fails to benefit. Every day hundreds of sufferers are writing to our Ladies' Advisory Department. The letters are opened by persons competent to give advice. Mrs. Jones was cured by following the advice which was freely given her by the Ladies' Advisory Department. Miss Owens was cured without advice by just buying a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from her druggist and taking this great medicine in the privacy of her home. No doctor's examination, treatment or advice is necessary. You have read what these two cured women have written. Is this not enough to lead you to determine to be rid of suffering?

WHEN Miss Rose Owens, who has a responsible position in the Government service at Washington, D. C., decided to try Wine of Cardui, she made a wise choice. Over a million women have been relieved of female weakness by this same Wine of Cardui. It is not a strong medicine but may be taken every day in the year by any woman with benefit. It does not force results, but corrects derangements of the menstrual system, gives tone to the bodily functions, acts directly on the genital organs, and is the finest tonic for women known to the science of medicine.

August 18, 1900, Mrs. W. H. Jones, of Cameron, Mo., writes: "I suffered terribly at monthly periods for three years. I would sometimes go for seven months with no flow at all. Now I have my health back again a 4 am expecting to be confined in January. I cannot praise your medicine enough."

WINE of CARDUI

poisons the minds of the thoughtless has cost this dear country of ours enough already. 'Twas literature like this that murdered McKinley. And now in the old Eighteenth district of Ohio it is again called upon to murder the great policy of protection of which McKinley was the great apostle, prophet and martyr. My countrymen, you believe in protection, you that want to continue and preserve our prosperity, can you intrust that principle to one who compares our splendid prosperity with "the skull and cross bones dripping with blood of tender innocence?" Can you trust a man to let "well enough" alone when he himself compares that "well enough" which you prize to the "hissing of a venomous reptile?"

I am not unmindful that you have a rich treat yet in store for you tonight and that I must not consume more time upon the subject of the tariff and prosperity. One word in conclusion only upon that subject. Eternal vigilance is the price of prosperity. We have had our protective tariff stricken down before our eyes before when we least expected it. Let all remember that upon election day.

Now, upon the other hand, what does the Democratic party purpose to do except find fault and scold? Have they any intelligent remedy to propose or to suggest? If so, we have never heard it. They flood the land with inflammatory literature as if seeking to incite to riot and destruction of property and having blinded the judgment of the voter by passion and prejudice they hope to place a free trade rider upon any and every law that is offered of proposed to correct these evils. Place all trust-made articles upon the free list, say they. It readily occurs to you that this remedy would destroy the innocent and guilty together. There is no tariff on oil or any of its products.

FREE TRADE REMEDY IS NOT APPLICABLE.

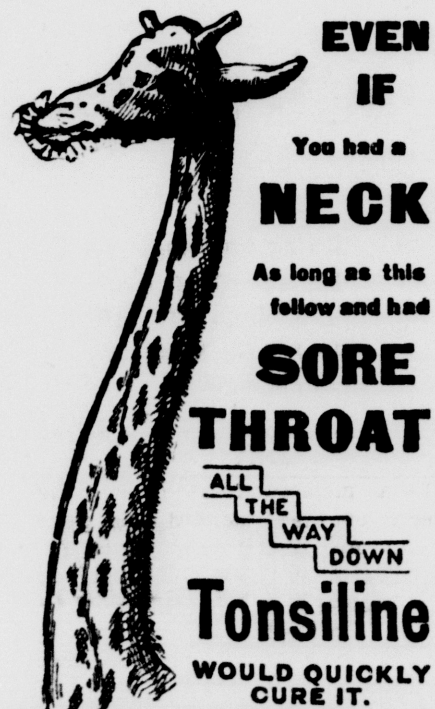

Free trade would in no manner whatever embarrass the great meat trust in this country and to take the tariff from anthracite coal would be but to

THIS IS A FACT

There is No Question About it. It's a Plain Statement of Facts—Made By An East Liverpool Citizen.

Mrs. Margaret Tracy, of No. 179 Seventh street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "One of my family was very nervous, subject to nervous spells—weak and miserable—could not sleep and the digestion was very poor. I asked the invalid to take Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkin's Drug Store. The result was splendid—the medicine built her up—enriched the blood—made the nerves strong—gave restful sleep and so strengthened the stomach that digestion was perfect—the old time languid, played out feeling has given place to one of strength and energy and as a result we are more than pleased with the medicine."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

aim a blow that would fall heaviest upon the poor fellows down in the mines. But such proposed legislation is perfectly consistent on the part of those statesmen who can see an analogy between our splendid prosperity and "the skull and cross bones dripping with the blood of tender innocence," or whose reason leads them to compare it to the "hissing of a venomous reptile."

It is said that a large number of worthy men who have been affiliated with the Republican party are about to desert its standard, forsake its great standard bearer and wander away after false issues in this campaign. On August 23 there gathered together in Alliance some men claiming to represent organized labor in this district and placed in nomination for congress a platform of principles claimed to represent the sentiments of organized labor in the district. That platform does not represent organized labor nor its sentiments in this Eighteenth district. Organized labor is in favor of and approves all the splendid utterances of our president upon the subject of the trusts. They so declared in convention assembled on August 8, only two weeks prior to the meeting at which Mr. Duffy was nominated. The platform of principles adopted at that convention as representing the sentiments and wishes of organized labor is like the play of Hamlet with Hamlet left out. On August 8 the endorsement of the president's policy was first in the minds of organized labor, and it is first still. The convention that met on August 23 was dominated by Democrats. Their platform of principles was drawn by a committee consisting of two Democrats at least, and the platform was framed not so much to represent the principles of organized labor as to get something that would be acceptable to the Democrat party and the Socialist party. This movement was intended to be a side show to Tom Johnson's circus. Can it be that the wage workers of the Eighteenth district will wander away after a political hay wagon like that which went out from Alliance on August 23? Its vacillating and hesitating and pleading to be permitted to go to the circus and desert in this great time when great things are impending the party of McKinley and the party of Roosevelt. Will the great United Mine Workers of America be so forgetful of the great honor conferred on their order and the great service rendered them by our chief magistrate? The great Amalgamated Association of Iron and steel workers will let well enough alone and when the votes are counted it will be discovered that the voters believe that the tariff and its maintenance is a more important issue than the initiative and the referendum in legislation.

AS TO INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM.

In the platform upon which both of my opponents stand appears as first and most important of the living issues before the people the following: "Direct legislation known as the initiative and referendum. The people should have the power to institute and pass upon the laws by which they are to be governed." The Republican party has given wherever practical optional initiative and referendum. We have it in all changes of our constitution, in municipal affairs where extraordinary sums of money are to be expended and in our local option law. But their platform does not declare for optional initiative and referendum. It declares for this method in all legislation. That would mean, my friends, that each law would have to be submitted to a direct vote by the people. Let's for a moment see how that would work.

The last tariff bill in its schedule contained four thousand items; the voter would have to vote something like four thousand times. The ballot prepared would have to contain instructions, for many of these items are acids and chemicals and things of that nature of which the ordinary voter is wholly uninformed. Such a ballot sheet would contain almost as much paper as a Webster's dictionary. There would not be in existence on this continent paper sufficient to print the ballots for such an election. There isn't a hay mow in this county big enough to hold the ballots required in this city, and the clerical force of the government could not canvass such a vote in an entire presidential term. This method of voting, I have no doubt, works admirably in New Zealand and Switzerland, but New Zealand hasn't had as much legislation in the last ten years as this city has in the last year. Why, if New Zealand should drop into the center of the earth and be covered from sight the world would scarcely miss her. It has occurred to me that if Bonsall and Duffy and Bell were in New Zealand they would now be raising against the initiative and referendum and expatiating grandiloquently upon the beauties of the great American constitution.

REPUBLICAN PARTY

THE WAGE EARNERS.

There are many things in this platform with which I am in accord but no principle is declared for that is of paramount interest. The platform of a political party should be the declaration of what it expects to do NOW. We have the eternal present in which to do our work and it is idle employment dreaming dreams of a civilization to be reached in a vague and distant future. Ultimate co-operation in production and distribution we may have when the millennium comes.

The Republican party and the wage workers are one. They have had a grand career in the last fifty years. They have gone forward together hand in hand accomplishing the proudest achievements. The great workingmen of this nation, what have they not accomplished? They have raised our civilization by their sturdy efforts to the highest summit of prosperity. In every field of useful endeavor they have woven a mantle of glory ample enough to envelop the shoulders of the mighty continent. We see them in the workshops and factories having wrested the thunderous hammer from the mighty hand of Thor, compelling it to perform their stint of labor in factory and mill, turning the might of Niagara into light and heat and power, making the lightning their servant and compelling it to bear their messages over the continents and through the seas.

These same men in politics were led first by Lincoln, the rail splitter, who bore upon his immortal shoulders to God four million broken shackles, the first great Republican martyr in the cause of labor, and as we look along that long line of working men and see Grant and Garfield and McKinley and Roosevelt, all devoting their lives to the best interests of laboring men, we make our appeal to you to stand by this grand party. We do not invoke the demons of hate, jealousy and envy but we call on working men for God's sake to look up and not down. See the luminous bow of promise all radiant with a brighter hope for labor spanning all the future. Your own interest calls you. Your country calls you. Posterity implores you to banish evil passions from your mind and vote for your country's welfare.

THE SPEECHES OF

LAYLIN AND BROWN.

The secretary of state, Mr. Laylin, was the next speaker introduced by Chairman McDonald. Mr. Laylin is possessed of wonderful oratorical ability and the flow of eloquence that came from his lips could not be surpassed. On the state and national subjects of public interest he gave his listeners a vivid explanation, and when he closed his most interesting address every man present expressed delight and satisfaction over the instructive points which had theretofore been as a mist before them.

He reviewed the achievements of the people of the United States during the four decades intervening between Lincoln's time and that of Roosevelt, stating that more had been achieved in that time than in the history of the entire world previous. The Republican party, he strongly pointed out as the champion of all beneficial things accomplished in that time. To show with but little argument what Democracy had done for the country he simply cited the last four years of Cleveland's administration. After talking along many lines of interest of the nation in general he confined himself to state politics and closed by imploring his hearers that none of them would go to the polls on November 4 and vote for a man who would not carry out the principles for which President McKinley lived and died. "Mr. Kennedy," he said, "is the man who will represent the district as McKinley would have desired, and I don't see how any fair-minded man can support any other."

Although quite late when ex-Congressman Brown stepped forth he talked with so much earnestness and impressiveness that all applauded him vociferously throughout his discourse. To the subject of tin, one of the vital subjects confronting the United States, and one upon which he is exceedingly well versed, he confined himself. Like Mr. Laylin, he concluded by a forceful argument in favor of Mr. Kennedy and begged that the chosen one be supported to a man.

DIVORCE CASES FROM THIS CITY

Three Occupied the Attention of Common Pleas Court
Yesterday.

THE WIFE THE DEFENDANT

In an Action Brought by Robert Smithwhite—Mary Bothwell And Alice McDevitt Sue Their Hus-
bands—All the Petitions Granted.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special)—Three East Liverpool divorce cases came up in common pleas court yesterday. Half of the noon hour in-termission was given to their disposal, the prayer of the petitioners being granted in each case. Robert and Grace Smithwhite were married in Lisbon in 1897 and a divorce was granted the husband yesterday. In his petition Mr. Smithwhite charged gross neglect of duty and wilful absence, specifying that on June 29, 1899, when he lay sick of a fever, his wife abandoned him, leaving him to be cared for by his friends. More than three years have passed and she has not returned. They had no children. Mrs. Smithwhite was formerly Miss Grace Brown, of this city. After leaving her husband she lived with her mother until last May, when she dis-appeared and has not been heard from. She is said to have left with Drayton Evans.

Mary A. Bothwell asked to be di-voiced from Edwin F. Bothwell on grounds of gross neglect of duty and unfaithfulness. They were married in 1896. The woman set forth that for three years, through idleness and dissipation the husband had failed to support her and the daughter, Gladys E., now five years old, and they had become dependent on the wife's relatives. The husband was a traveling salesman, and the wife further al-leged that through pernicious compani-ship with lewd women he had become depraved. She was given custody of the daughter.

Alice McDevitt asked for a divorce from David McDevitt on the grounds of wilful absence and non-support for the last three years. They were mar-ried in East Liverpool April 8, 1897. The plaintiff's maiden name, Miss Alice Deidrick, was restored.

PROBATE MATTERS

Wills Filed And Other Matters
Brought to Judge Boone's
Attention.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special)—An authenticated copy of the will of the late Hester Jeannette Murland, of Pittsburg, has been recorded in the probate office, the defendant having owned real estate in this county.

The will of the late Anella Gabriel, of Perry township, is admitted to pro-bate. Paul Gabriel has been appoint-ed executor with $160 bond.

P. B. Moore, of East Palestine, as guardian of Amos Marilee and others, made returns of private sale of real estate belonging to his wards and sit-uated in Middleton township. The court refused to confirm the sale, as the consideration was less than the appraisement, and issued an order of private sale.

TEMPORARY ALIMONY

Allowed Mrs. August Gethlen Pending
Decision of Her Divorce
Case.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special)—Another East Liverpool divorce case in which Ernestine Gethlen was plain-tiff and August Gethlen, was defend-ant, was given a preliminary hearing by Judge Hole this morning, the plain-tiff asking temporary alimony.

They were married in New York 14 years ago, and have one daughter. The wife charges unfaithfulness and cru-elty, citing instances of each. On one occasion, the husband hit her with his fist and threw dishes at her. Tem-porary alimony of $35 and $6 per week, was allowed by the court.

Fatally Injured.

Steuensville, October 29.—John W. Brooks, head engineer at the Pope tin works, was fatally injured yesterday by being struck on the head by a lever.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And
of Matters About Town.

Bad Fire Narrowly Averted—What might have been a serious fire oc-curred at the store of J. J. Rose, on Washington street, this morning. It was found that a spark from a gas jet had set fire to a joint in the basement which had been smoldering all night. The blaze was extinguished without damage.

Arranging Shelves for Plants—Car-penters have been busy the entire day arranging shelves for plants in all the south windows of the Carnegie public library. It would be advisable for those who have palms and other plants which are too large to be kept in their homes to place them in the library for the winter, as the atmos-phere in the library is kept always at an even temperature.

Flourishing.

Steuensville, October 29.—Jefferson county, counting those just started and being abandoned now has 36 mines, most of them around Dillonvale and Smithfield. The United States Coal company is the largest corporation there. It has 45 miles square of coal land or 20,000 acres in Smithfield, Warren and Cross Creek townships, and will spend over a million dollars opening and equipping its 10 mines.

It has just completed a five-mile switch from the mines located up Crow hollow to connect with the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, and not the Wheeling, Lake Erie & Al-liance road.

To build this big side track costs a large sum of money, as it was neces-sary to cut away the precipitous hill-sides overlooking the ravine at the head of which the 10 openings were made. In some instances where the ravine was very narrow it became necessary to blast nearly the entire hillside away. A force of 400 or 500 foreign laborers is still employed on the work.

The ten mines are located at the up-per extremity of the ravine and ar-rangements have been made so that coal from the ten openings can be dumped in cars from two tipples. From one tippie six mines will dump their product, while from the other four load. Along the hillside they have made cuts for numerous side-tracks leading to the two tipples. A great steam house will be built from which power will be obtained to run all the machinery in the ten mines, the outside haulage system and the tippie machinery.

The company will employ over 1,000 inside of a year, and is going to build a new town near the mines, which will be used exclusively for workmen. It is to be called "Bradley," and will have a postoffice, telegraphs and other modern improvements. It is three miles from Smithfield.

The Hitchman & Upstill company, owning over 4,000 acres of coal be-tween Long run and Mt. Pleasant, is starting another big development. Its two mines are located exactly half a mile from the Wheeling & Lake Erie tracks, and as the company refused to construct a side track to its openings, the company had to build a connect-ing link. The company is also building a new town. The total cost of the equipment for mines and houses will exceed $200,000.

SHANTYBOAT MEN SUBJECT TO FINE

A State Law on the Subject Very Plain In Regard to Trespass.

PENALTY OF FIFTY DOLLARS

Or Thirty Days Imprisonment May Be
Exactd For Infractions of Statute
—City Need Not Legislate In Order
to Act.

Since the matter of ridding the city of the shanty boat nuisance, a number of residents have become interested, together with the News Review. The statutes have been perused, with the result that laws have been found which will, if the authorities see fit, make it unnecessary to proceed against these undesirable citizens in the manner and in accordance with Mr. Peach's resolution passed by council last night.

Section 6881 of the revised statutes of Ohio, entitled "Trespass by owners of shanty boats," says:

"Whoever, being the owner of any shanty boat, anchors, ties or beaches, said boat upon the real estate of an- other along a creek or river, unless in case of distress or for a longer pe-riod than 36 hours, without the permis-sion of the owner or agent of the said real estate upon which the said boat is anchored, tied or beached, shall, upon conviction be fined not more than $50 or imprisoned not more than 30 days."

This law, it would seem, was framed for the very identical purpose Mr. Peach, in his resolution, was trying to cover. Not only this, but the law just quoted is preferable to prosecute un-der, since it makes the offense criminal and the penalty a jail sentence. Be-sides, the arraignment is secured through the serving of a warrant. Proceedings under the resolution of council must necessarily be of a civil nature. If the authorities are in ear-nest they may now proceed.

A WORKHOUSE TERM

FOR A MAN WHO TRIED TO OR-

He Is Accused of Decamping With the Long.

Salem, October 29.—Had not the sight of money driven Henry Berry to contract for a jag of large proportions, Salem would have had a base ball team during the past season and Berry would not now be languishing in jail awaiting transportation to the work-house at Cleveland.

Last June Berry, a husky young man, came here from Washingtonville. He secured employment and worked about saloons for some time. It was then Jesse Fageley had organized a base ball team and had a subscription list circulated. Fageley sent Berry out to collect on the list and the money was to be used to purchase suits for the team.

Berry collected a sum of money, no one knows just how much, went on a drunk and the last seen of him for four months was on June 30 at Lee-tonia. He went there from Century, W. Va., where he drove a mule at a coal mine. Sunday he returned to Washingtonville. Monday Marshal George Vaughn invited Berry to Sa-lem. Berry did not know a warrant was out for his arrest. Vaughn turned him over to the local officers late Mon-day afternoon.

Yesterday about 10 o'clock Mayor Baker arraigned Berry on a charge of embezzling $33, the prosecuting wit-ness being Jesse Fageley. Berry told a romantic tale about being on his way back to settle the case. He was fined $10 and costs and given 30 days to the Canton workhouse, where he was taken today.

TOM JOHNSON'S IDEAS

ABOUT WORKINGMEN

Dear Sir—You are reported to have said at your Akron meeting that there is no difference between the single tax as you advocate it and that advo-cated by Henry George; that Henry George is the father of the philosophy known as the single tax, and that you are an humble student of that philos-ophy. And yet, if Henry George were alive today you would hardly welcome him, would you, as a speaker in your tent? He always stood up and boldly declared his beliefs and argued them out in detail to a logical conclusion. Why do you not do the same? Would you face a hostile, jeering audience and oppose organized labor as he did in his Cooper Union speech of July 12, 1894. He said at that time:

"Let me tell you what I have told you many times before. It is some-thing I must tell you or I would be dishonest. This whole great organized labor movement is on a wrong line—a line on which no large and per-manent success can possibly be won. Trades unions, with their necessary weapon, the strike, have accomplish-ed something, and may accomplish something, but it is very little and at great cost. The necessary endeavor of the strike to induce or compel others to stop work is in its nature war, and furthermore it is war that must neces-sarily deny a fundamental principle of personal liberty, the right of every man to work when, where and for whom and for what he pleases. Those who denounce labor organizations and their works use this moral principle against you. Stated alone it is their strength and your weakness."

He then proceeded to argue that in the single tax alone can labor find re-lief. If, as you say, you agree with Henry George, are you not of the same opinion as to the uselessness of organization for labor? Do you not make common cause against the ef-forts of the wage earners to better their condition, just as your single land tax theory would take away the homes that they have bought with their savings?

and many of her friends, and though it seems almost incredible, it is said that the person suspected belongs to a prominent family of the city and has long floated in the circles of the elite. Just suspicious and not con-fident, Mrs. Hill had about deter-mined to give up the matter, when on last Sunday she received a letter con-taining news more startling to her than when she discovered her loss.

The epistle had been carefully pre-pared and mailed in this city, having a city postmark and city date line. It was type written and contained sub-stantially the following:

"It is with deep pain that I write you this letter. Enclosed you will find the ring stolen from your apartment some time ago. It was taken by my child, and I cannot understand why or how the child could do such a thing. For the sake of my wife, who would be heart-broken if she would ever hear of the matter, I hope you won't let her know of it."

The letter was signed by a promi-nent business man of the city. Mrs. Hill, of course, was delighted upon re-ceiving the ring, but she could not con-sole herself when reading the signa-ture. That a child of that family could commit such a deed she felt positive could not be. But not knowing posi-tively she sat down and answered the letter, assuring the supposed sender of the letter that no one would ever be the wiser. When the man received her answer he was dumfounded. His child do such a thing? He knew it could not be so, and beyond all doubt knew that he had never written a letter to Mrs. Hill.

Immediately he went to the tele-phone and called his wife, acquainting her with the particulars. She too was almost paralyzed. The parents made an investigation of the facts and found that the ring had been stolen and other facts gleaned, the suspicion being

Perhaps though you would stand out against the labor organizations and in favor of the single tax, just as Henry George did. May we not judge as much by what you did against the unions at your steel mills? The Amal-gamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, as stated by letters from its members in its official organ (The Amalgamated Journal) "has spent time and money and given its best ef-forts to organize the men at Johnstown and Lorain, but without success." The association kept its organizers in your mills for weeks, but without form-ing any unions there, and the reason given is that the employees at Lorain and Johnstown "knew Tom L. Johnson was opposed to labor unions," and they held him (i. e. you) "responsible, because he owned and controlled the mills, and the policy pursued was by his direction." So then, do you think that labor unions are on wrong lines" or do you not?

The father of your philosophy, by the way, wasted no time in discussing three cent fares and higher taxation for railroads. He went in to destroy the evil at the root, and openly fa-vored abolishing all private property in land. You denounce the inequality of taxation which assesses alike corpora-tions of equal capital stock, though one stock may be worth much more than the other. Is that as unfair as to tax alike the vacant city lot and the adjoining lot on which rises a tower-ing structure of stone and brick and steel worth hundreds of thousands? Is that system of taxation fair or just which plans to tax the farmer every year the actual value of his land, so as to tax him out of his ownership, and equally plans to overlook entirely the man who has millions invested in stocks and bonds and other credits? Do you not say that all you are doing in this campaign is for purpose of es-tablishing such a single tax?

Why, then, do you avoid discussing the subject in full and in detail, in the way that it was taught by your friend, its founder?

Respectfully,
CHARLES DICK

rested upon a party, they were not long in judging how and why the anonymous letter had reached Mrs. Hill. The father upon whose child the guilt was attempted to be laid has em-ployed a detective to run down the case and will not relent until the thief is brought to justice.

AN INSPIRING RALLY HELD AT WELLSVILLE

Republican Campaign Issues Ably Discussed by Messrs Kennedy, Laylin and Brown.

The city hall at Wellsville last evening was the scene of a political demonstration that will long remain in the minds of the very large assembly present. Together with the bulk of representative citizens there were present many from East Liverpool and other nearby towns. A richer treat could not be desired than that given by the three orators who addressed the meeting, Hon. James Kennedy, of Youngstown, Republican candidate for congress in the Eighteenth district; Hon. L. C. Laylin, of Columbus, secretary of state; and ex-Congressman John B. Brown, of New Castle, Pa.

Early in the evening crowds congregated on the street near the hall and talked with great anticipation of the able discussions of the issues of the day, both local and national. They were not destined to be disappointed. Men understanding the policies of the government better than the three speakers would indeed be hard to find. They arrived in the city on the afternoon trains and were escorted to the Hotel Metropole by the reception committee, composed of J. W. McQueen, Charles McGregor and Thomas Ferguson.

Manley's band, of East Liverpool, paraded the streets an hour previous to the opening of the meeting and the music that was played lent enchantment to the occasion. One most impressive fact connected with the addresses of each of the orators was their repeatedly calling the attention of the enthusiastic crowd to the fact that they lived in one of the most historic districts in the entire United States, made so by having been the home of the idolized and brilliant minded McKinley. The tributes paid the late president were so very appropriate and struck a popular chord that no other reference would have wrought.

Supt. of Schools J. L. McDonald acted as chairman of the meeting and carried out the part in his usual easy and graceful manner. He expressed himself as feeling greatly honored at having the pleasure of introducing the speakers and gave them each a hearty welcome, voicing the sentiment of the people. Hon. James Kennedy, who has been chosen to represent the grand old Eighteenth district in congress, opened the meeting and for fully an hour held the audience to the closest attention, his remarks being so full of honest and logical arguments on the paramount topics of discussion at every fire side in the district. He was followed by Secretary of State Laylin and ex-Congressman Brown.

Mr. Kennedy spoke as follows: There are two great questions of paramount interest which should receive our careful consideration. The first of these is, "Should the American policy of protection be continued?" To those living in the district of McKinley, having heard the argument upon that subject as it has doubtless fallen from his lips in this same audience hall, little argument should be needed. Remember that he, the great apostle of protection in America, predicted our great prosperity and told you that it would follow as a result of the adoption of the policy and principles of protection. He predicted also the depression, disaster and ruin that would follow the striking down of the protective system and that depression and poverty with its idle factories and mills, with its want and wretchedness, with its

All Sorts of Expedients Resorted to in Order to Heat Houses and Cook. Manufacturing Plants Badly Crippled.

A bad break in the lines of the Fort Pitt Gas company, near Brilliant, early this morning has caused irretrievable loss to merchants and manufacturers and untold inconvenience to private consumers in this vicinity.

Those in charge of the local office of the company were unable to explain the cause or the extent of the break, but assured those who called that repairs would be completed within a few hours.

Wellsville, which depends almost entirely upon the Fort Pitt for its gas supply, is placed in a very bad condition.

Manufacturing establishments, using the gas engine were compelled to close down, and not a little suffering was occasioned to private consumers through lack of heat and their inability to operate cooking stoves.

In this city the shortage of gas was not so noticeable, since the great majority of the consumers in the city proper are subscribers of the other line.

The break in the mains of the Fort Pitt Gas company has affected almost the entire East End. This morning the early risers met with failure when they attempted to light the gas and were compelled to dress in the dark and cold. Later when the housewives began to prepare the morning meal there was another disappointment. Old stoves were resurrected and hastily put into commission and dry boxes, fence rails and other inflammable materials were conscripted. In houses where the gas stoves were the only provision for cooking, the occupants were compelled to take a "Jack-bite" from what had been left over from the evening meal, and then hurry away to their work.

The gas company would answer no telephone calls and their East End patrons were in the dark this morning as to the extent of the break and the length of time necessary to repair it. The potteries were not affected as they are supplied by the Ohio Valley company, but outside of a few subscribers along the main to the plants all houses are supplied by the Fort Pitt.

Oil stoves were in great demand at the East End hardware stores this morning by people who have been depending entirely on gas for cooking and heating purposes. Overcoats and wraps were much in evidence among the clerks and merchants.

Settlement Effected.
President A. S. Hughes, of the N. B. of O. P., returned last evening from Ford City, where he was called to adjust a difference that had arisen in the handling and warehouse departments of the Ford City China company. The settlement was easily arranged and everything is now satisfactory.

ACTIVE WORKERS ALL OVER TOWN

Republicans in the City Are Entering on Earnest Campaign Work.

When the decision was arrived at by the republican city committee last Friday night to appoint and put to work sub-committees in the various sections of the city, it seems no time was lost in carrying out the plan. There are at present earnest and aggressive workers out all over the town, and they are working voters at every turn.

It has been definitely decided that no meeting will be held here during the present campaign. There are several reasons for this. In the first place there was no suitable hall accessible, and on the other hand, aside from Candidate Kennedy himself, who was very anxious to come to East Liverpool, no other first-class speaker could be secured. The East Liverpool committee has endeavored for years to secure Senator J. B. Foraker, for a speech in this city, but the state and national committees have always kept him busy in some other section where the result was more in doubt. Had it been possible to arrange for a meeting to be addressed by Mr. Kennedy and Senator Foraker, East Liverpool would have experienced a revival of political enthusiasm not known in years.

However, Mr. Kennedy proposes to spend several days here before the campaign closes, and it is certain he will make a good impression.

The city committee will meet again Friday night, and at that time the situation will be gone over from reports to be made by both committeemen and sub-committeemen. The body will then be able to proceed with the work of getting out the vote in an intelligent and successful manner.

FOWLER VS. LA BELLE

Interesting And Complicated Case Decided in Justice McLane's Court.

Squire McLane has rendered a decision in the case of Fowler against LaBelle, the man who rented a stand privilege at Columbian park during the week of the fair. Fowler, it will be remembered, received a judgment against LaBelle and LaBelle was stopped from paying the money by a Mr. Miller, who claimed that the paraphernalia attached belonged to him and not LaBelle.

In giving a decision the squire stated that inasmuch as Miller was present at the time that Fowler made the contract with LaBelle he forfeited his rights to the tents, etc. As a result the tents will be sold at public sale.

NO CONCESSIONS GIVEN UNLESS FOR EQUIVALENT

From 8 o'clock until 10:30 the council last night occupied the time in discussions which amounted to little else than the consumption of time. In the last 15 minutes more actual business was transacted than throughout the remainder of the session. The most important action taken was the determination on the part of the council to compel the Pennsylvania company to grant many and extensive concessions ere it will be permitted to cross the streets and alleys of the city with its double track system.

The building permit and indemnifying ordinance was put on its second reading without a word of comment.

Mr. Peach introduced a resolution, the text of which was published in the News Review several days ago, which will rid the river shore of every houseboat in the vicinity. According to the resolution Mayor Davidson is to serve written notice upon the owners of the boats to vacate the city's property within 10 days.

By the proper action an amount aggregating $5,349.55 was transferred from several street improvement funds to the general sinking fund.

H. E. Grosshans, C. H. Blazier and J. J. Weisend were elected as a board of equalization upon the Pennsylvania avenue improvement.

At this juncture three plats of land which it was proposed to have the city accept, were presented to the council by Chairman Bullock, of the street committee. They consisted of that of the Midway Land company, the fourth addition of the Puritan company and the second addition of the East Liverpool Land company. Mr. Bullock reported that the plats had been gone over and the territory viewed, but that in no case had the provisions or ordinance No. 465 been complied with to the letter. It will be remembered the ordinance calls for the grading of all streets, the bridging of streams and the placing of monument stones before the plat of any land company can be accepted. Mr. Bullock reported that the owners had promised to make the necessary improvements, and while he thought the ordinance was too strong, still with the understanding that the work would be done, he might recommend the acceptance of the plats.

The discussion was lengthy and resulted in a small portion of the Midway Land company's possessions being accepted. The portion taken in by the motion included only those lots bordering upon streets which have already been improved. The other two plats were referred back to the street committee.

Councilman Barlow reported the properties of Thomas Chadwick and Mrs. Surles on Grant street in very bad shape in consequence of grading. A special committee, consisting of Messrs. Barlow, Orr and Thomas, was appointed to endeavor to adjust the difficulty.

Since the new parochial school has been erected on Fifth street, the condition of Summit lane and Persimmon alley had rendered it impossible to keep the water out of the cellar, and the building was in bad sanitary condition other ways. A petition was presented asking that these alleys be improved. The petition was accepted and the solicitor and engineer were instructed to draw up the necessary resolution.

Mr. Bullock, of the railroad committee, made a report giving an idea of

HANGED IN CELL

Prof. William Pfankuch Desperately Planned Suicide and Nearly Succeeded.

Hanging by the neck, his head fastened between a chain and an iron bar in a cell at the city hall this afternoon, Prof. William Pfankuch, the musician arrested Monday evening and released yesterday morning, and who was arrested again this morning for strange actions committed on Sunnyside, was found by Health Officer Burgess and Officer Dawson, with practically the last spark of life ready to depart.

He was so near death when discovered that for an hour afterwards he was unable to give an explanation of his rash act. He then stated that it was only because he was tired of life. His troubles have not come singly, he averred. Since, as he says, his wife cruelly deserted him, the particulars which were published exclusively in last evening's issue of the News Review, he has been despondent and upon every occasion possible he has resorted to intoxicating liquor in the hope that he could drown his troubles. Drink has a terrible effect on him, driving him mad at times. It was thought yesterday that he was on the verge of insanity but he promising to get out of the city it was considered good policy to let him go. It seems that upon being released he continued his drinking. He was seen this morning roaming like a crazy man, and the police were telephoned to, asking that he be arrested.

He was not placed under the care of a physician when extricated from between the irons but an application of water was put into use. Much trouble was encountered in reviving him, and he is now in a precarious condition. His eyes are puffed far out onto his cheeks and his head is much swollen. If he recovers sufficiently he will be taken to the depot and sent to Pittsburg.

BOLD ROBBERY

Followed by Cowardly Attempt to Fix the Crime Upon
a Child.

Fearing conviction for committing a most daring robbery, some unknown person of this city has resorted to a despicable and cowardly deed, attempting to sully the fair name of the child of a family too highly respected and honored to allow for a moment any breath of suspicion to rest upon them or theirs.

The origination of the fact dates back several weeks, occurring at the home of Capt. J. A. Myers, and James Hill, on Fifth street, at the conclusion of a reception given by Mrs. Myers to a large number of her lady acquaintances. On the afternoon of the affair Mrs. Hill was made the victim of a theft under circumstances which were very mysterious.

Mrs. Hill had assisted along with possibly a dozen ladies in receiving the guests and when all had departed for their homes she retired to her apartments up stairs for a few moments. Going to her bedroom she laid a diamond ring, valued at $150, down on a dresser stand, together with other rings of less value, and went out. She was absent from the room, perhaps five minutes, and when she returned she was stricken almost dumb upon reaching for the costly piece of jewelry and finding that it had disappeared. Too considerate to make an assertion when she was wholly without grounds, Mrs. Hill, instead of immediately heralding the loss, kept it a secret. But feeling that it was an imposition on herself to allow the guilty one to have possession of her property she later commenced an investigation.

The guilty party must surely have become aware that the suspicion was being centered, for under no other circumstances would he or she have attempted to shift the crime. Close inquiry was made by Mrs. Hill company with Mrs. Carpenter, were in this city last evening, and, it is said, were drinking.

After an uncertain time last evening Green remembers nothing, and it is supposed that he was drugged, and while under the influence of the medicine was robbed. He had the rings and money in his pocket when he started out with Mrs. Carpenter. This morning he awoke in a stable belonging to Arch Severs and cannot account for having landed there, not having the least knowledge of ever crossing the bridge.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

A PRIMITIVE POTTERY.

Far away in the southwest prairies of Chicago is situated a small pottery. The stockholders, laborers, sales agents and profit sharers of the company are Emmanuel Duschek and his family. The clay from which his wares are made is dug out of a hole in the back yard and is mixed with a small quantity of finer grade of clay brought from Michigan. The family horse turns the revolving wheel which crushes the clay and prepares it for use. Herr Duschek & Son further run it through a roller, which renders it smooth, and in a fit condition for the manipulation. An old time potter's wheel is used for turning out the pots, and with delicate manipulation of finger and thumb a lump of clay assumes the most graceful shapes at the will of Herr Duschek. Flower pots are also moulded by a machine. The kiln is in the horse's stable and its capacity is from 5,000 to 6,000 pots. This is fired up every two or three weeks, when enough wares are accumulated to effect one burning. The lady of the house acts as sales agent, the daughter runs the necessary errands and the dog guards the precious wares while the father does the honors of the plant to those who come to see him. Mr. Duschek is utilitarian, but his hanging and standing vases have a richness of color and gracefulness of design which render them especially attractive to consumers in art wares and obtain for them a ready sale.

POTTERY INTERESTS SAFE.

Eighteenth (Ohio) district politics are sized up in an editorial in the Glass and Pottery World, which says in part: "The manufacturing potters of the middle states and, indeed, of the entire United States, can breathe a sigh of relief. In harmony with the advice offered by the World the members of the Western Manufacturers' association, collaborating with other manufacturing interests of the Eighteenth Ohio Congressional district joined forces, and to such purpose that the bugaboo of a joint labor and Democratic congressional candidate for the vacancy made by the resignation of Congressman Robt. W. Taylor is dispelled and those who were fearful of any molestation of present tariff conditions at the hands of the coming congress, abetted by the member from the Eighteenth district, are now resting content. The solution of the problem is contained in the fact that by reason of both Democratic and Labor tickets presenting a congressional ticket in the field, the election of the Republican congressman is assured beyond peradventure, and the Eighteenth district will have as a successor to the great McKinley and the assiduous Taylor again a pledged high-tariff representative. Until the American manufacturer of china can be assured of more than 50 per cent. of the American market, his vigilance and his most strenuous efforts must be directed to placing and keeping high-tariff congressmen as representatives in the national congress."

HUGHES THE DELEGATE.

In all human probability President A. S. Hughes will be the delegate from the N. B. of O. P. to the convention of the American Federation of Labor which is to meet in New Orleans next month. John Gould, who is the regularly selected delegate, has lately accepted a situation as foreman of the Canonsburg China company, and is thus disqualified, the constitution prohibiting him from remaining on the active list. He can, however, become an honorary member. President Hughes and Leroy Orr were the alter rates selected and as the latter has lately given up the trade for good he too is disqualified. The convention next month at New Orleans is one of vast moment to the artisans of the United States as there will be many questions up before it. Understanding, as he does so thoroughly, every detail of the pottery business, President Hughes is well equipped to represent the National Brotherhood.

NEW DECORATORS.

Fifteen new girls have been taken on in the decorating rooms at Brunt's during the last week. The newcomers are about evenly divided between the decalcomania department and the regular shop and will assist materially in promptly filling orders for decorated ware which have been uncommonly large and numerous of late. Miss Eva Stone, the forelady of the decalcomania department, is handling her increased force in a masterly manner in spite of the fact that the shop is somewhat crowded.

RUNNING WELL.

The Barberton pottery is running full and the results are all or more than was expected. Everything about this model plant works to perfection, from the engine room to the packing department. A very fine grade of ware is being turned out and a few kinds of art pottery have been made. It is the aim of the concern to add two kilns in the spring and in all probability a separate plant for the manufacture of art pottery.

WILL BUILD A HOME.

Howard Leslie, a well known packer, employed at Harker's, has purchased a piece of land containing about two acres and situated a short distance from the Rock Springs park and will build himself a comfortable home. It is his intention to have the work commenced as soon as possible.

A COON ROUNDUP.

William Messer and Harvey Barnhart, of the Union; George Perry, of the Albion house, and Jonah Barnhart spent a couple of days last week hunting over in West Virginia. They had a big coon hunt one night and rounded up five and the next day killed 18 rabbits and five birds.

MR. ROBERTS OUT AGAIN.

John Roberts, the genial and efficient manager of the decorating room at Wm. Brunt's, is back again after a long seige with typhoid fever, though still too weak to resume his duties. John Harrison, who has been in charge of the shop during Mr. Robert's illness, will remain until he has fully recovered.

FIRST TO FALL ILL.

Frank Sells, an odd man at Laughlin No. 2, is reported sick today. He is a member of the Laughlin Sick and Death Benefit society, and the first of its members to fall ill since the organization, six weeks ago. The society now has 52 members.

CHOPPED OFF A FINGER.

The 4-year-old son of George Hales, a presser at McNicol's, severed the forefinger of his left hand while playing with a hatchet the other day. The finger was taken off at the second joint, making a very painful wound.

CALLED TO PITTSBURGH.

Len Ludreich, a turner at the Union, was called to Pittsburgh Saturday by the death of a sister. He has the sympathy of his many friends here.

Miss Ida Dittmore is finishing for Ed Messer at the Union.

Miss Maude Childs, of the decorating room at the Union, has gone to her home at Toronto, being too sick to work.

Arthur Owens has taken a job in the biscuit room at the Union as kiln placer. He had been working at Thompson's.

Ed. Messer, a jiggerman at the Union, had a very successful hunting trip over in Pennsylvania last Saturday, killing five birds and seven rabbits.

INCREASED ATTENDANCE

At the Public Schools This Month
Shown By Supt. Raymond's Report.

Prof. R. E. Rayman presents this month a report which is worthy of particular notice. In speaking of school attendance the superintendent holds that prompt and regular attendance of pupils is a very essential factor, for where there is regular attendance there is, as a rule, excellent work. The entire enrollment in the city school for the month is: Boys, 1,454, girls 1,496; whereas for last month the boys numbered 1,398 and the girls 1,433. This shows constant growth of the schools.

The per cent of attendance for October was boys 93, girls 93; tardiness, boys 89, girls 79; honor roll for the month, boys 710, girls 776.

The report is a very satisfactory one, and all parents are urged to have their children in school each day during the next month.

Ripe And Luscious, Picked From the Warner Farm Near Columbiana.

Youngstown, October 29.—Youngstown people have been privileged to view several quarts of large, ripe strawberries, fine as they were in the heart of the season, in July. The berries are in the window of Dr. H. H. Bedford, and were picked by Grant Warner from his berry farm near Columbiana. It is the second crop this year, and the remarkable weather for the past two weeks is responsible for the fruit maturing.

Two gallons of the luscious berries were picked on the farm Sunday, and are of the finest quality and flavor. The display attracted considerable attention today, and many marveled when they viewed the sight.

NO GREAT CROWDS

Youngstown Workers Do Not Appear to Enthuse Over the Duffy Campaign.

Thomas J. Duffy, the Labor candidate for congress in the Eighteenth district, was not greeted with the great crowd of followers who were to come from Alliance, Sebring and Beloit Saturday night. The fact that a special train was to be run from Alliance was freely advertised and it was expected to have some 200 men, with a band in line.

But there was no band, no delegation and no train. The train did not run because the delegations could not be got together in all the three towns out together, says the Youngstown Telegram. The directors of Duffy's campaign were lamenting the fact that the train was not run.

"They demanded a guarantee of 200," said Charles Bonsall, "and we couldn't give it."

Duffy, aided by Billy Radcliffe, the Democratic candidate for sheriff, as "barker," pulled off the meeting on Central square Saturday night.

PRESENTED A BANNER

Second Presbyterian Church Gift to Young People's Societies' Convention.

Miss Lida Farrar, of Ohio avenue, and Mrs. John Grant, of Pennsylvania avenue, left last evening to attend the convention of the societies of the Steubenville presbytery at Uhrichsville. They are delegates from the Second Presbyterian church. The convention was held last evening and Mrs. Grant had a number on the program, "Junior Flashlights."

The delegates were also entrusted with a banner made by the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Second Presbyterian church, which they presented to the convention. The banner was made of red satin with a monogram in gold and on it, in white letters, were the words "The World for Christ." The banner was presented to commemorate the fact that the society last year had the largest membership and were the largest contributors to the various boards of the presbytery.

soup houses and with its millions and millions of sorrowful, idle men, came promptly as predicted, and was with us from '92 to '97. Look back over the history of the country and see with what regularity the transitions came from prosperity to depression whenever the Democrats came into power; how again business revived, how the factory fires were lighted up; how the hum of industry filled all the land, how depression and sadness and despair gave place to hope and joy and gladness when the nation gave protection to its great industries.

During Cleveland's last administration of incompetency and ruin Americans were humiliated by the spectacle of their nation borrowing money in a time of profound peace to pay the current expenses of government. The public prints all over the land were filled with reports of failure and disaster. In the great city of Youngstown we went to the legislature of the state and secured authority to expend a large sum of money in the improvements of our park so that the thousands of the strong, honest working men of our city might earn a loaf of bread for their wives and children without being humiliated by asking alms.

PROSPERITY IS NOT

Will it be said that tariff legislation had nothing to do with these conditions? William McKinley foretold them all with precision and exactness long before the event, and the calm judgment of history will be that it was not because he was a prophet but because he was a statesman. So with our present prosperity. We repudiate the theory that it is accidental and how great our present prosperity is few are able to appreciate. The balance of trade in our favor since President McKinley's election and the adoption of our present protective tariff bill is greater five or six times over than the balance of trade in our favor during the entire century and a quarter of our existence before. The money that came to our shores in excess of that which was sent abroad for the purchase of goods reached the enormous aggregate of two and a half billions of dollars.

The tonnage of the single city of Pittsburg last year exceeded the combined tonnage of all the principal cities of continental Europe. Our internal commerce has become so vast that figures almost fail to express its enormous volume. Over in our city of Youngstown today our mills are full of orders for eighteen months in advance. Orders for immediate delivery in some lines command prices twenty-five per cent in advance of regular rates. There is today a freight blockade in every great city in the land and our furnaces in the Mahoning valley are compelled to shut down occasionally because the railroads are unable to handle the freight. Happiness and plenty everywhere abound as never before in the world's history.

This is the Republican view of our prosperity which our great party urges you to support and sustain. I hold in my hand a paper which was circulated on the streets of Youngstown last Saturday evening at a meeting held by one of the congressional candidates in this Eighteenth district. The caption of this paper reads as follows: "Union labor campaign document No. 2. Voters of the Eighteenth district vote for Thomas Duffy for Congress, etc." This extraordinary political document appears to have been printed at Salem, Ohio. You remember some years ago it was thought that too many foreigners were coming to these shores and that some means should be devised to restrict immigration. It has occurred to me that if the campaign literature which is annually sent out in this country by the great amalgamated association of discontented political growlers were circulated in all foreign countries, and that no other reports of our magnificent country could reach those shores, that immigration would stop immediately. I wish to read from

"Prosperity! To Morgan and Rockefeller thy name is legion, indeed, but to the great mass who produce the wealth and work overtime, with scarce an advance in wage, and the cost of living under trust rule nearly double, thy name is a sham, a mockery, a broken reed, an insult to every self-respecting American citizen. To the 40,000 little children in the southern cotton mills offering up their tender lives an unwilling sacrifice to the savagism of New England avarice and Wall street gamblers, at $1.92 per week, and this miserable pittance devoured by company stores, thy name is but the emblem of the skull and cross bones, dripping with the blood of tender innocence.

This paper (The American Worker) my countrymen, is a direct invocation to those blackest of demons that curse the human soul—malice, hate and envy; an appeal to those evil passions which are said to have had power to drag the very angels from high heaven down. I cannot but express surprise that anyone should think that voters would act more wisely at the polls with their minds blinded by passions and anger than when influenced by those kinder sentiments and virtues which, if our faith be true, can lift poor mortals to the skies.

A REMARKABLE DOCTRINE.

Our attention has been called to a circular headed "Union Labor Campaign Document No. 2," which bears an Alliance date and is being circulated by the Duffy workers in the Eighteenth district. We are surprised that a man of Mr. Duffy's good sense should allow such a document to go forth in his name with the expectation that it will aid his political fortunes. However, he is young in politics. The whole drift and tenor of this remarkable campaign document is that prosperity is non-existent, and that to the great mass who produce the wealth of the land the name is "a sham, a mockery, a broken reed, an insult to every self-respecting American citizen." To quote further: "To the tens of thousands of miserable men, women and children in this class-ridden nation, eking out a bare existence in a land where there is plenty for all, the very sound of this prostituted name is like unto the hissing of a venomous reptile." Again, it is stated that both to the miner and the farmer, the words protection and prosperity are "as hollow and senseless as some sepulchral inscription upon the crumbling tombs of a charnel house, deserted and forlorn."

Rot! If this is the doctrine for which the name of Duffy stands, who is there that wants to hear more of it? It is an insult to intelligent workmen to ask them to disbelieve the evidence of their own eyes and ears and not to be impressed by the result of their own experience. It is probably true, as the circular asserts, that some classes of labor are still insufficiently paid; but is it a remedy for this condition to propose to destroy the industry which supports them and give them no work and no pay at all? That the trusts are prosperous seems to be the chief grievance of this circular writer, and to keep the trusts from amassing wealth he would rob the poor of any possibility of doing likewise.

ing men, as is the case all over the city today, there were twenty men ready to accept any sort of job that promised to earn them a dollar. Articles of clothing and food are higher than they were, but who but a fool would not rather have them so, with money in his pocket to buy, than to have them cheap and have no means of getting them? Men who believe prosperity a myth and would destroy it will vote for Democracy and free trade; but men who thus believe are going to be scarcer than ever in East Liverpool this fall.

VOTE THE STRAIGHT TICKET.

Nice thing it would be, wouldn't it if the friends and admirers of Mr. Duffy, by their complimentary votes for him, should land the strong Republican city of East Liverpool in the Democratic column? This would not change the result, for James Kennedy will certainly be elected to congress; but the possibility of such a thing occurring should make the voters pause. Tariff revision will certainly be undertaken or attempted by the next congress. In what shape would the pottery manufacturers and pottery workers of this city be to ask favors at the hands of a congress if it should be recorded that East Liverpool gave a majority for a Democrat? If the voters would safeguard their interests and be in a position to have their demands and wishes heeded, their only rational and reasonable course is to stand by the party which has always stood by them. Complimentary votes for Duffy cannot help him, and no man who wishes to keep his party record blameless will desire to pose as an assistant Democrat, or help the Democratic party to gain any advantage, any foothold or anything to boast of in this city. Those who act otherwise can do no good, but they can work incalculable harm. Vote the straight ticket.

The Republican voters of Wellsville and vicinity and all others who came out to listen had a feast of oratory at the enthusiastic meeting held last evening. All the speeches were eloquent and effective. We print the speech of Congressional Candidate Kennedy in full, confident that Republican readers who may not have an opportunity to hear him during the campaign will peruse it with interest. It is an able, thoughtful and earnest speech, and should make every Republican feel proud and satisfied that its author is to be the next representative in congress from this district, which has long been conspicuous for the brains and brilliant qualities of its congressmen.

In a column of incoherent raving over the exposure which the News Review made of the Crisis' practice of stealing news from early copies of our paper, that sheet does not attempt to deny the charge. It cannot unless it would stand convicted of lying as well as of theft. We made no charge until in possession of the facts to back up what we said. We repeat that the Crisis is a thief, and with that statement submit the case to the jury that is to pass upon it—the public.

AT THE THEATER

Manager Tom Roe. Have you noticed upon the many bill boards throughout the city the coming of Dave B. Lewis' big production, "Uncle Josh Spruceby"? This rural comedy, with its sensational and thrilling saw-mill scene will be at the Grand opera house, Thursday evening, October 30, and with it, as manager, will be found a well known and much thought of citizen of East Liverpool, Mr. Thomas Roe. Tom also plays a cornet dextrously in the band, and it is dollars to doughnuts that his friends will be on hand to give him a rousing welcome and one of the largest houses of the season. Invest in a ticket to see "Uncle Josh Spruceby" and you will then please Tom, and receive a dividend of one hundred per cent. of satisfaction and fun.

The Every Church, Boston.

Messrs. Brady & Grismer.

Managers "Way Down East" Co. Gentlemen:

I had the pleasure last night of seeing "Way Down East," and I cannot forbear expressing my gratification with the spirit and purpose of the play. That the theater can make money out of such a play seems to me a hopeful sign of the times. It ought to encourage managers to experiment yet a little further along this line. I venture to believe that if this kind of work were more common, there would be among Christian people less criticism of the modern theater.

GEO. L. PERIN, Pastor.

On Saturday, November 1, at the Grand, Lincoln J. Carter's greatest scenic production "The New Fast Mail" will be the attraction. Mr. Carter has brought into effect in "The Fast Mail" a thoroughly consistent railroad story, brimful of comedy and laughable situations. The climaxes of each act are wonderfully strong and the play increases in interest from start to finish, strong specialties are introduced and there is not a dull moment from rise to fall of the curtain.

There is every indication that Jule Walter's new version of "Side Track" will be well attended at the Grand on Friday night. This attraction is certainly head and heels over all similar ones on the road and deserves its well earned success. The many years that this play has stood the test speaks well for its laugh-making qualities. Mr. Walters promises several funny specialties and new mechanical effects.

"A Thoroughbred Tramp" was greeted by a big house at the Grand last night, and the performance was very satisfactory. The plot centered around the quest of vengeance of a New York merchant who had fallen until he became a tramp, as the result of the machinations of a mysterious enemy. It abounded in numerous incidents in which the tramp was the principal factor.

what the Pennsylvania company wanted at the hands of the city. He stated the committee had decided to recommend that the council grant the company permission to lay a switch from the east side of an alley near the Thompson property to a point west of Ralston crossing. The council did not agree with the committee and thought if any concessions were to be secured from the railway people it would be advisable to begin before anything was given them by the city. From the lengthy discussion that followed it was evident that the body had some doubt as to whether the present committee was competent to cope with the railway officials, and a motion was made that the committee be enlarged so as to include every member of the council. This motion lost, and another was made that the old committee be discharged and that a committee of five be appointed, the president to be included. The motion prevailed and the committee will consist of Messrs. Peach, Bullock, McConnell, Marshall and Niece.

Attorney J. H. Brookes was present on behalf of the building contractors of the city, and when given permission to do so explained to the council that the proposed ordinance to require the taking out of building permits and compelling contractors to indemnify the city against liability from damage suits, was illegal. Attorney Brookes had prepared a brief which contained a supreme court decision, and he proposed to leave that with the city solicitor, feeling sure that he would, after carefully considering, agree with the contractors and Mr. Brookes that the ordinance would not hold. After Mr. Brookes had finished Member Peach took the floor and said:

"When that ordinance was framed the members of council who were interested in its passage had the best interests of the city at heart. Their purpose was not to injure anyone, but to protect the taxpayer against having his money used in paying damage claims. Now, gentlemen, we were very careful to have the provisions of the measure conform to the law in every particular. I don't want you to lose sight of the fact that Mr. Brookes is paid to come here, and it is his purpose to put up the best argument possible."

"That is true," replied Mr. Brookes, "but it is equally true that I have not made a statement here that I am unable to bring before the court and obtain a favorable decision upon."

The matter will receive attention at the hands of the solicitor.

The Severs China company had a proposition which, if accepted, would solve the problem of disposing of the hot water at its plant. The company proposed to stand half the expense of constructing sewers to carry the water over the river bank. The city was to bear the remaining expense. The proposition was accepted.

Attorney Grosshans, representing the residents of Springdale street, asked that a walk be constructed for several hundred feet on that thoroughfare. His clients would either furnish the material or do the work. It was decided that the street commissioner should lay the walk and that the residents supply whatever lumber would be required.

CHAMPION POOL PLAYER

W. H. Clearwater Gives a Very Interesting Exhibition of His Skill.

W. H. Clearwater, of Ellwood City, Pa., who is the champion pool player of America, gave an exhibition of his skill last evening at Campbell's billiard parlors on Main street. Mr. Clearwater played a continuous game of pool with Carl Cope, one of the local experts. Six frames were played and Mr. Cope succeeded in getting but two balls of the 90 played. Roy Daughaday, another local player, then took Mr. Cope's cue. Daughaday succeeded in making seven of the balance of 60 balls required to make the 150 agreed upon by Mr. Clearwater. On only three different occasions during the game did the champion make a scratch shot, which is considered remarkable.

After the game was over Mr. Clearwater gave an exhibition in fancy shots, all of which were well applauded by the large crowd present. This was followed by several finger shots which were of a high order.

Mr. Clearwater has one of the best records in winning pool tournaments and championship games of any pool player in the world. In 1896 he defeated Jerome Keogh at the Great Northern billiard hall in Pittsburgh and won the world's championship, together with a purse of $1,000. This year he won first prize and retained the world's championship in a tournament at "The Montauk," in Brooklyn, N. Y. His highest continuous run is 125 balls. This run he made on a 4 1/2 x 9 table at Uhrichsville.

PLACING NEW RAILS

The Street Railway Company at Last Proceeding With the Much Needed Work.

The East Liverpool Railway company, which for some time has been holding up the paving work on Liverpool street by not placing new girder rails in the center of the street according to the order of the city council, is at last making progress with the work and it is expected the required stretch of track will be completed in a few weeks.

A force of men is kept at work daily and has thus far succeeded in laying nearly three hundred feet of the track. Work could be started at once on the paving by Contractor Freshwater were he assured of the continued progress of the street car company with its part of the work.

VETERANS AND SONS

Entertainment Given By Garfield Camp Last Night a Grand Success.

It was a great night for the veterans and the Sons of Veterans. Garfield camp, S. of V., gave an entertainment and banquet, that has rarely been eclipsed for enjoyable features. It took place at G. A. R. hall and fully 100 members of the G. A. R. and of the Sons of Veterans were present.

A substantial meal was spread on beautifully decorated tables and an enjoyable program was carried out. S. T. Herbert presided. Rev. S. P. Salmon, who had been expected, could not be present and John J. Rose delivered the address of welcome. In a patriotic and impressive speech he bade the civil war veterans welcome to the table of the sons.

Rev. J. W. Gorrell responded in a humorous and eloquent speech. D. J. Smith spoke for the G. A. R., saying it did his heart good to meet so many young men. It carried him back to the days of the war. The inalienable right of freedom and equality, the pursuit of life, liberty and happiness intended by the early patriots had been maintained. The flag conceived by woman, baptized in the blood of the patriots at Brandywine, insulted at Charleston was dedicated forever to the principle that men should love one another.

Colonel F. W. Meyers, responding to the toast, "The Relation of the S. of V. to the G. A. R.," told some amusing stories and called attention to the fact that the evening was the anniversary of 13 important events. It had been an unlucky event for Great Britain that 13 colonies concluded to throw off the yoke of oppression. October 28, 1776, Washington was defeated by Howe, which taught the patriots caution and caused a renewal of ambition. Twelve important battles of the civil war occurred on the same day of the year. He told of the aims of the Sons of Veterans. The local camp consisted of over 60 members, was the largest in the state, next to the oldest, and had held more meetings than any other camp of the same organization in the state.

Squire J. N. Rose delivered a very enthusiastic address in praise of the young men. They had been of invaluable assistance to General Lyon post, rite dwelt upon the lessons that had been learned that the stability of American institutions that had resulted in the war of the rebellion.

Rev. Dr. Pratt was called on and made an excellent speech, sparkling with wit and good sense. Selections by the Mandolin club were a pleasing feature of the program.

A VERY EASY VICTIM

Man from West Virginia Mourns Loss of Money Lent a Pretty Girl.

One of the easiest fellows that ever drifted into East Liverpool was in the city last Sunday, coming over from Chester, where he is employed as a laborer. Sunday evening he approached Chief Thompson and implored the officer to assist him in recovering some money which had been gained he thought, by unfair means. After listening to the man's story the chief told him that there were people in every city looking for just such marks as he, and that he had no remedy for the case.

The fact as related by the sucker follows: "This afternoon I was in a house on Broadway with the prettiest girl you ever saw. She told me how much she loved me and then asked me if I could not lend her 50 cents. I thought she was as sweet as can be found, and reached down in my pocket for the gift. I had nothing smaller than a $2 bill, and before handing it to her I said: 'Now, will you be honest enough to bring the change back, dear?' She said she would and left me. Well, she did not come back and I hunted her up. She laughed at me when I asked her for the change, and now, chief, I want to swear a warrant for her arrest."

Between the Globe Pottery Jiggermen And Their Employers.

There has been no settlement as yet of the difference between the jiggermen at the Globe pottery and the East Liverpool Pottery company, the operators of the plant. Jiggermen's local No. 12 met in regular session last night and the trouble was the principal topic of conversation. The special committee appointed last Monday night had a conference with the company, but no decision was reached and they so reported.

The local has approved the action of the jiggermen in refusing to work with the clay furnished them. President Hughes, of the N. B. of O. P., was present at the meeting last night. The difficulty will be settled as soon as possible and may be referred to the arbitration committee.

Plan to Establish One at Havana Abandoned, but Other Three Not

Treaty Will Be Ready For Congress

Washington, Oct. 29.—The fact recorded in the news dispatches from Havana that President Palma has returned to Washington the draft of the reciprocity treaty without his approval has not shaken the belief of the officials here that they will have a treaty ready to submit to congress by the date of its next meeting. As soon as Mr. Quesada, the Cuban minister here, receives the document he will submit it to Secretary Hay. The latter already has knowledge of the objections found by the Cuban government. Then negotiations will be continued on the basis of the original draft, for it is explicitly stated that the proposition submitted by the state department was in no wise an ultimatum, and the matter is still open to adjustment. Generally stated, the Cuban objections are based on a belief that the United States has demanded undue concessions in the remission of duties on United States products entering Cuba, ranging all the way from 10 per cent to 80 per cent, in return for a 20 per cent cut on Cuban sugar and tobacco coming into the United States.

Dated at Warren, O., October 11, 1902.

THE STATE OF OHIO, COLUMBIANA CO., ss.
I, John S. McNutt, Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, within and for said county and State, do hereby certify that the within and foregoing is truly taken and copied from the original now on file in said Clerk's office. opinion at the state department that it can be settled amicably. If not, and the Cuban government insist upon terms that the state department cannot grant, the two countries will simply drift along without a trade treaty of this kind. As Cuba will undoubtedly be the principal sufferer it is expected here that she will be the first to make another advance toward a treaty.

There has been an important change in the program respecting the whole fabric of Cuban treaties. It had been originally intended to perfect a reciprocity treaty before undertaking to deal with other relations that must be defined by treaty. As it is now seen that the subject of reciprocity is one that will require considerable time for its disposition, the government here is about to undertake negotiations looking to the arrangement of an extradition treaty, which is very much needed, inasmuch as Cuba threatens to become a sink hole for American criminals. Also the navy is pressing for the coaling station promised under the terms of the Platt amendment, and the near approach of the Cuban maneuvers has stimulated this desire, as it has been shown that such stations would be of great strategic value during the movements. Therefore, the Cuban government will be at once invited to open negotiations on this point.

Against Granting Coal Stations.

It is not expected that this can be done without some friction, because there has been a growing disinclination on the part of the Cubans to the idea of surrendering coaling stations to the United States. Proper sites for coaling stations were selected tentatively many months ago by Admiral Bradford, chief of the equipment bureau, who is directly in charge of naval coaling stations, but of the four points selected, one, Havana harbor, has been abandoned from regard for Cuban sensibility. It is not likely that further sacrifices of that kind will be made, and the other three points, namely, Nipe, on the north coast, and Cienfuegos and Guantanamo, on the south coast of the island, will be chosen as permanent locations.

REPLY MADE TO COLOMBIA.

Adjustment of Differences Expected Soon.

Washington, Oct. 29.—It was learned yesterday that a prompt answer had been made by the state department to the latest Colombian note respecting the Panama canal treaty, which was transmitted to the department Monday. Its nature was not divulged, but the presumption is that it deals almost entirely with Colombian representations regarding the sovereignty of the isthmus, which the Colombians feel has been seriously invaded by the acts of Commander McLean and Admiral Casey in preventing the prompt movement of troops across the railroad. This matter, as before stated, is now the subject of negotiations between the Colombian government and Minister Hart, at Bogota, and an early adjustment is looked for.

The state department is anxious that a speedy settlement be reached in order to facilitate the completion of the Panama canal treaty. Mr. Concha, the Colombian minister, has received ample and specific instructions empowering him to proceed in this matter, which has been retarded only by the controversy which has arisen regarding the transit of the isthmus.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 29.—In order that Mitchell day might be properly observed today there was a general suspension of mining. The superintendents of many of the collieries were notified yesterday that the employees would not report for work today. Many visitors were arriving last night to witness the demonstration in this city. There will be a street parade and mass meetings in nearly all the towns in the coal region.

Wright, of Carbon, Ind.; Thomas Hagerty, of Reynoldsville, Pa. The latter will be the principal speaker at the meeting today. Mr. Mitchell and citizens and clergymen will ride in carriages in the parade. T. L. Lewis, vice president of the United Mine Workers, will be the orator of the day at the demonstration to be held at Hazleton.

The improved conditions of the mines was shown yesterday, when the output of coal was the largest since mining was resumed.

Paris, Oct. 29.—Ambassador Porter was present and made a speech last night at a banquet of French officials who have been connected with all foreign exhibitions. The dinner was given in the Hotel Continental, and many prominent persons were present. M. Trouillot, minister of commerce, presided. Ambassador Porter made a felicitous reference to the cordial friendship which has long existed between France and the United States. He said France should take a leading part in the St. Louis exposition, as the Louisiana Purchase was the most important negotiation ever consummated between the two countries. The ambassador's remarks were received warmly.

MISS ROSE OWENS,

No. 720 Seventeenth St., WASHINGTON, D. C.

"If every suffering woman has the same experience with Wine of Cardui that I had, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out tired feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only needed to take three bottles when I was fully recovered."

Miss Rose Owens.

WHEN Miss Rose Owens, who has a responsible position in the Government service at Washington, D. C., decided to try Wine of Cardui, she made a wise choice. Over a million women have been relieved of female weakness by this same Wine of Cardui. It is not a strong medicine but may be taken every day in the year by any woman with benefit. It does not force results, but corrects derangements of the menstrual organs. It strengthens the nervous system, gives tone to the bodily functions, acts directly on the genital organs, and is the finest tonic for women known to the science of medicine.

If you are a suffering woman we would say to you that Wine of Cardui seldom fails to completely cure any case of female ill. We say emphatically, it never fails to benefit. Every day hundreds of sufferers are writing to our Ladies' Advisory Department. The letters are opened by persons competent to give advice. Mrs. Jones was cured by following the advice which was freely given her by the Ladies' Advisory Department. Miss Owens was cured without advice by just buying a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from her druggist and taking this great medicine in the privacy of her home. No doctor's examination, treatment or advice is necessary. You have read what these two cured women have written. Is this not enough to lead you to determine to be rid of suffering?

August 13, 1900, Mrs. W. H. Jones, of Cameron, Mo., writes: "I suffered terribly at monthly periods for three years. I would sometimes go for seven months with no flow at all. Now I have my health back again and am expecting to be confined in January. I cannot praise your medicine enough."

WINE of CARDUI A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

poisons the minds of the thoughtless has cost this dear country of ours enough already. 'Twas literature like this that murdered McKinley. And now in the old Eighteenth district of Ohio it is again called upon to murder the great policy of protection of which McKinley was the great apostle, prophet and martyr. My countrymen, you believe in protection, you that want to continue and preserve our prosperity, can you intrust that principle to one who compares our splendid prosperity with "the skull and cross bones dripping with blood of tender innocence?" Can you trust a man to let "well enough" alone when he himself compares that "well enough" which you prize to the "hissing of a venomous reptile?"

I am not unmindful that you have a rich treat yet in store for you tonight and that I must not consume more time upon the subject of the tariff and prosperity. One word in conclusion only upon that subject. Eternal vigilance is the price of prosperity. We have had our protective tariff stricken down before our eyes before when we least expected it. Let all remember that upon election day.

Now, upon the other hand, what does the Democratic party purpose to do except find fault and scold? Have they any intelligent remedy to propose or to suggest? If so, we have never heard it. They flood the land with inflammatory literature as if seeking to incite to riot and destruction of property and having blinded the judgment of the voter by passion and prejudice they hope to place a free trade rider upon any and every law that is offered of proposed to correct these evils. Place all trust-made articles upon the free list, say they. It readily occurs to you that this remedy would destroy the innocent and guilty together. There is no tariff on oil or any of its products.

THIS IS A FACT

There is No Question About it. It's a Plain Statement of Facts—Made By An East Liverpool Citizen.

Mrs. Margaret Tracy, of No. 179 Seventh street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "One of my family was very nervous, subject to nervous spells—weak and miserable—could not sleep and the digestion was very poor. I asked the invalid to take Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkin's Drug Store. The result was splendid—the medicine built her up—enriched the blood—made the nerves strong—gave restful sleep and so strengthened the stomach that digestion was perfect—the old time languid, played out feeling has given place to one of strength and energy and as a result we are more than pleased with the medicine."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

WHY STAY PALE.

A pity to see pale girls stay pale and dull when it is so easy to get Scott's Emulsion.

One of the best things Scott's Emulsion does is to give rich blood to pale girls.

The result of regular doses of Scott's Emulsion is an increase not only in the red color of the blood and in the appetite but in the good looks and bright manners which are the real charm of perfect health.

alm a blow that would fall heaviest upon the poor fellows down in the mines. But such proposed legislation is perfectly consistent on the part of those statesmen who can see an analogy between our splendid prosperity and "the skull and cross bones dripping with the blood of tender innocence," or whose reason leads them to compare it to the "hissing of a venomous reptile."

It is said that a large number of worthy men who have been affiliated with the Republican party are about to desert its standard, forsake its great standard bearer and wander away after false issues in this campaign. On August 23 there gathered together in Alliance some men claiming to represent organized labor in this district and placed in nomination for congress a platform of principles claimed to represent the sentiments of organized labor in the district. That platform does not represent organized labor nor its sentiments in this Eighteenth district. Organized labor is in favor of and approves all the splendid utterances of our president upon the subject of the trusts. They so declared in convention assembled on August 8, only two weeks prior to the meeting at which Mr. Duffy was nominated. The platform of principles adopted at that convention as representing the sentiments and wishes of organized labor is like the play of Hamlet with Hamlet left out. On August 8 the endorsement of the president's policy was first in the minds of organized labor, and it is first still. The convention that met on August 23 was dominated by Democrats. Their platform of principles was drawn by a committee consisting of two Democrats at least, and the platform was framed not so much to represent the principles of organized labor as to get something that would be acceptable to the Democrat party and the Socialist party. This movement was intended to be a side show to Tom Johnson's circus. Can it be that the wage workers of the Eighteenth district will wander away after a political hay wagon like that which went out from Alliance on August 23? Its vacillating and hesitating and pleading to be permitted to go to the circus and desert in this great time when great things are impending the party of McKinley and the party of Roosevelt. Will the great United Mine Workers of America be so forgetful of the great honor conferred on their order and the great service rendered them by our chief magistrate? The great Amalgamated Association of Iron and steel workers will let well enough alone and when the votes are counted it will be discovered that the voters believe that the tariff and its maintenance is a more important issue than the initiative and the referendum in legislation.

AS TO INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM. In the platform upon which both of my opponents stand appears as first and most important of the living issues before the people the following: "Direct legislation known as the initiative and referendum. The people should have the power to institute and pass upon the laws by which they are to be governed." The Republican party has given wherever practical optional initiative and referendum. We have it in all changes of our constitution, in municipal affairs where extraordinary sums of money are to be expended and in our local option law. But their platform does not declare for optional initiative and referendum. It declares for this method in all legislation. That would mean, my friends, that each law would have to be submitted to a direct vote by the people. Let's for a moment see how that would work.

The last tariff bill in its schedule contained four thousand items; the voter would have to vote something like four thousand times. The ballot prepared would have to contain instructions, for many of these items are acids and chemicals and things of that nature of which the ordinary voter is wholly uninformed. Such a ballot sheet would contain almost as much paper as a Webster's dictionary. There would not be in existence on this continent paper sufficient to print the ballots for such an election. There isn't a hay mow in this county big enough to hold the ballots required in this city, and the clerical force of the government could not canvass such a vote in an entire presidential term. This method of voting, I have no doubt, works admirably in New Zealand and Switzerland, but New Zealand hasn't had as much legislation in the last ten years as this city has in the last year. Why, if New Zealand should drop into the center of the earth and be covered from sight the world would scarcely miss her. It has occurred to me that if Bonsall and Duffy and Bell were in New Zealand they would now be raising against the initiative and referendum and expatiating grandiloquently upon the beauties of the great American constitution.

REPUBLICAN PARTY

THE WAGE EARNERS.

There are many things in this platform with which I am in accord but no principle is declared for that is of paramount interest. The platform of a political party should be the declaration of what it expects to do NOW. We have the eternal present in which to do our work and it is idle employment dreaming dreams of a civilization to be reached in a vague and distant future. Ultimate co-operation in production and distribution we may have when the millennium comes.

The Republican party and the wage workers are one. They have had a grand career in the last fifty years. They have gone forward together hand in hand accomplishing the proudest achievements. The great workmen of this nation, what have they not accomplished? They have raised our civilization by their sturdy efforts to the highest summit of prosperity. In every field of useful endeavor they have woven a mantle of glory ample enough to envelop the shoulders of the mighty continent. We see them in the workshops and factories having wrested the thunderous hammer from the mighty hand of Thor, compelling it to perform their stint of labor in factory and mill, turning the might of Niagara into light and heat and power, making the lightning their servant and compelling it to bear their messages over the continents and through the seas.

These same men in politics were led first by Lincoln, the rail splitter, who bore upon his immortal shoulders to God four million broken shackles, the first great Republican martyr in the cause of labor, and as we look along that long line of working men and see Grant and Garfield and McKinley and Roosevelt, all devoting their lives to the best interests of laboring men, we make our appeal to you to stand by this grand party. We do not invoke the demons of hate, jealousy and envy but we call on working men for God's sake to look up and not down. See the luminous bow of promise all radiant with a brighter hope for labor spanning all the future. Your own interest calls you. Your country calls you. Posterity implores you to banish evil passions from your mind and vote for your country's welfare.

THE SPEECHES OF

LAYLIN AND BROWN.

The secretary of state, Mr. Laylin, was the next speaker introduced by Chairman McDonald. Mr. Laylin is possessed of wonderful oratorical ability and the flow of eloquence that came from his lips could not be surpassed. On the state and national subjects of public interest he gave his listeners a vivid explanation, and when he closed his most interesting address every man present expressed delight and satisfaction over the instructive points which had theretofore been as a mist before them.

He reviewed the achievements of the people of the United States during the four decades intervening between Lincoln's time and that of Roosevelt, stating that more had been achieved in that time than in the history of the entire world previous. The Republican party, he strongly pointed out as the champion of all beneficial things accomplished in that time. To show with but little argument what Democracy had done for the country he simply cited the last four years of Cleveland's administration. After talking along many lines of interest of the nation in general he confined himself to state politics and closed by imploring his hearers that none of them would go to the polls on November 4 and vote for a man who would not carry out the principles for which President McKinley lived and died. "Mr. Kennedy," he said, "is the man who will represent the district as McKinley would have desired, and I don't see how any fair-minded man can support any other."

Although quite late when ex-Congressman Brown stepped forth he talked with so much earnestness and impressiveness that all applauded him vociferously throughout his discourse. To the subject of tin, one of the vital subjects confronting the United States, and one upon which he is exceedingly well versed, he confined himself. Like Mr. Laylin he concluded by a forceful argument in favor of Mr. Kennedy and begged that the chosen one be supported to a man.

DIVORCE CASES FROM THIS CITY

Three Occupied the Attention of Common Pleas Court
Yesterday.

THE WIFE THE DEFENDANT

In an Action Brought by Robert Smithwaite—Mary Bothwell And Alice McDevitt Sue Their Hus-
bands—All the Petitions Granted.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special)—
Three East Liverpool divorce cases came up in common pleas court yesterday. Half of the noon hour intermission was given to their disposal, the prayer of the petitioners being granted in each case. Robert and Grace Smithwaite were married in Lisbon in 1897 and a divorce was granted the husband yesterday. In his petition Mr. Smithwaite charged gross neglect of duty and wilful absence, specifying that on June 29, 1899, when he lay sick of a fever, his wife abandoned him, leaving him to be cared for by his friends. More than three years have passed and she has not returned. They had no children.
Mrs. Smithwaite was formerly Miss Grace Brown, of this city. After leaving her husband she lived with her mother until last May, when she disappeared and has not been heard from. She is said to have left with Drayton Evans.

Mary A. Bothwell asked to be divorced from Edwin F. Bothwell on grounds of gross neglect of duty and unfaithfulness. They were married in 1896. The woman set forth that for three years, through idleness and dissipation the husband had failed to support her and the daughter, Gladys E., now five years old, and they had become dependent on the wife's relatives. The husband was a traveling salesman, and the wife further alleged that through pernicious companionship with lewd women he had become depraved. She was given custody of the daughter.

Alice McDevitt asked for a divorce from David McDevitt on the grounds of wilful absence and non-support for the last three years. They were married in East Liverpool April 8, 1897.
The plaintiff's maiden name, Miss Alice Deldrick, was restored.

PROBATE MATTERS

Wills Filed And Other Matters
Brought to Judge Boone's
Attention.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special)—
An authenticated copy of the will of the late Hester Jeannette Murland, of Pittsburg, has been recorded in the probate office, the defendant having owned real estate in this county.

The will of the late Amelia Gabriel, of Perry township, is admitted to probate. Paul Gabriel has been appointed executor with $160 bond.

P. B. Moore, of East Palestine, as guardian of Amos Marlinee and others, made returns of private sale of real estate belonging to his wards and situated in Middleton township. The court refused to confirm the sale, as the consideration was less than the appraisement, and issued an order of private sale.

TEMPORARY ALIMONY

Allowed Mrs. August Giethlen Pending
Decision of Her Divorce
Case.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special)—
Another East Liverpool divorce case in which Estemine Giethlen was plaintiff and August Giethlen was defendant, was given a preliminary hearing by Judge Holé this morning, the plaintiff asking temporary alimony.

They were married in New York 14 years ago, and have one daughter. The wife charges unfaithfulness and cruelty, citing instances of each. On one occasion, the husband hit her with his fist and threw dishes at her. Temporary alimony of $35 and $6 per week, was allowed by the court.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And
Town.

Bad Fire Narrowly Averted—What might have been a serious fire occurred at the store of J. J. Rose, on Washington street, this morning. It was found that a spark from a gas jet had set fire to a joist in the basement which had been smoldering all night.
The blaze was extinguished without damage.

Arranging Shelves for Plants—Carpenters have been busy the entire day arranging shelves for plants in all the south windows of the Carnegie public library. It would be advisable for those who have palms and other plants which are too large to be kept in their homes to place them in the library for the winter, as the atmosphere in the library is kept always at an even temperature.

MILLIONS BEING SPENT IN DE-VELOPMENT OF COAL LAND.

Industries That Will Employ Large Numbers of Men Now Flourishing.

Steubenville, October 29.—Jefferson county, counting those just started and being abandoned now has 36 mines, most of them around Dillonvale and Smithfield. The United States Coal company is the largest corporation there. It has 45 miles square of coal land or 20,000 acres in Smithfield, Warren and Cross Creek townships, and will spend over a million dollars opening and equipping its 10 mines.

It has just completed a five-mile switch from the mines located up Crow hollow to connect with the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, and not the Wheeling, Lake Erie & Ali-ance road.

To build this big side track costs a large sum of money, as it was necessary to cut away the precipitous hillsides overlooking the ravine at the head of which the 10 openings were made. In some instances where the ravine was very narrow it became necessary to blast nearly the entire hillside away. A force of 400 or 500 foreign laborers is still employed on the work.

The ten mines are located at the upper extremity of the ravine and arrangements have been made so that coal from the ten openings can be dumped in cars from two tipples.
From one tippie six mines will dump their product, while from the other four load. Along the hillside they have made cuts for numerous side tracks leading to the two tipples. A great steam house will be built from which power will be obtained to run all the machinery in the ten mines, the outside haulage system and the tippie machinery.

The company will employ over 1,000 inside of a year, and is going to build a new town near the mines, which will be used exclusively for workmen. It is to be called "Bradley," and will have a postoffice, telegraphs and other modern improvements. It is three miles from Smithfield.

The Hitchman & Upstill company, owning over 4,000 acres of coal between Long run and Mt. Pleasant, is starting another big development. Its two mines are located exactly half a mile from the Wheeling & Lake Erie tracks, and as the company refused to construct a side track to its openings, the company had to build a connecting link. The company is also building a new town. The total cost of their equipment for mines and houses will exceed $200,000.

A State Law on the Subject Very Plain In Regard to Trespass.

PENALTY OF FIFTY DOLLARS

Or Thirty Days Imprisonment May Be
Exactd For Infractions of Statute
—City Need Not Legislate In Order
to Act.

Since the matter of ridding the city of the shanty boat nuisance, a number of residents have become interested, together with the News Review. The statutes have been perused, with the result that laws have been found which will, if the authorities see fit, make it unnecessary to proceed against these undesirable citizens in the manner and in accordance with Mr.
Peach's resolution passed by council last night.

Section 6881 of the revised statutes of Ohio, entitled "Trespass by owners of shanty boats," says:

"Whoever, being the owner of any shanty boat, anchors, ties or beaches, said boat upon the real estate of another along a creek or river, unless in case of distress or for a longer period than 36 hours, without the permission of the owner or agent of the said real estate upon which the said boat is anchored, tied or beached, shall, upon conviction be fined not more than $50 or imprisoned not more than 30 days."

This law, it would seem, was framed for the very identical purpose Mr.
Peach, in his resolution, was trying to cover. Not only this, but the law just quoted is preferable to prosecute under, since it makes the offense criminal and the penalty a jail sentence. Besides, the arraignment is secured through the serving of a warrant.
Proceedings under the resolution of council must necessarily be of a civil nature. If the authorities are in earnest they may now proceed.

FOR A MAN WHO TRIED TO OR-GANIZE A BALL TEAM.

He Is Accused of Decamping With the Cash, Staying Away
Long.

Salem, October 29.—Had not the sight of money driven Henry Berry to contract for a jag of large proportions, Salem would have had a base ball team during the past season and Berry would not now be languishing in jail awaiting transportation to the workhouse at Cleveland.

Last June Berry, a husky young man, came here from Washingtonville.
He secured employment and worked about saloons for some time. It was then Jesse Fageley had organized a base ball team and had a subscription list circulated. Fageley sent Berry out to collect on the list and the money was to be used to purchase suits for the team.

Berry collected a sum of money, no one knows just how much, went on a drunk and the last seen of him for four months was on June 30 at Leetonia. He went there from Century, W. Va., where he drove a mule at a coal mine. Sunday he returned to Washingtonville. Monday Marshal George Vaughn invited Berry to Salem. Berry did not know a warrant was out for his arrest. Vaughn turned him over to the local officers late Monday afternoon.

Yesterday about 10 o'clock Mayor Baker arraigned Berry on a charge of embezzling $33, the prosecuting witness being Jesse Fageley. Berry told a romantic tale about being on his way back to settle the case. He was fined $10 and costs and given 30 days to the Canton workhouse, where he was taken today.

TOM JOHNSON'S IDEAS

Dear Sir—You are reported to have said at your Akron meeting that there is no difference between the single tax as you advocate it and that advocated by Henry George; that Henry George is the father of the philosophy known as the single tax, and that you are a humble student of that philosophy. And yet, if Henry George were alive today you would hardly welcome him, would you, as a speaker in your tent? He always stood up and boldly declared his beliefs and argued them out in detail to a logical conclusion.
Why do you not do the same? Would you face a hostile, jeering audience and oppose organized labor as he did in his Cooper Union speech of July 12, 1894. He said at that time:

"Let me tell you what I have told you many times before. It is something I must tell you or I would be dishonest. This whole great organized labor movement is on a wrong line—a line on which no large and permanent success can possibly be won.
Trades unions, with their necessary weapon, the strike, have accomplished something, and may accomplish something, but it is very little and at great cost. The necessary endeavor of the strike to induce or compel others to stop work is in its nature war, and furthermore it is war that must necessarily deny a fundamental principle of personal liberty, the right of every man to work when, where and for whom and for what he pleases. Those who denounce labor organizations and their works use this moral principle against you. Stated alone it is their strength and your weakness."

He then proceeded to argue that in the single tax alone can labor find relief. If, as you say, you agree with Henry George, are you not of the same opinion as to the uselessness of organization for labor? Do you not make common cause against the efforts of the wage earners to better their condition, just as your single land tax theory would take away the homes that they have bought with their savings?

and many of her friends, and though it seems almost incredible, it is said that the person suspected belongs to a prominent family of the city and has long floated in the circles of the elite. Just suspicious and not confident, Mrs. Hill had about determined to give up the matter, when on last Sunday she received a letter containing news more startling to her than when she discovered her loss.

The epistle had been carefully prepared and mailed in this city, having a city postmark and city date line. It was type written and contained substantially the following:

"It is with deep pain that I write you this letter. Enclosed you will find the ring stolen from your apartment some time ago. It was taken by my child, and I cannot understand why or how the child could do such a thing. For the sake of my wife, who would be heart-broken if she would ever hear of the matter, I hope you won't let her know of it."

The letter was signed by a prominent business man of the city. Mrs.
Hill, of course, was delighted upon receiving the ring, but she could not console herself when reading the signature. That a child of that family could commit such a deed she felt positive could not be. But not knowing positively she sat down and answered the letter, assuring the supposed sender of the letter that no one would ever be the wiser. When the man received her answer he was dumfounded. His child do such a thing! He knew it could not be so, and beyond all doubt knew that he had never written a letter to Mrs.
Hill.

Immediately he went to the telephone and called his wife, acquainting her with the particulars. She too was almost paralyzed. The parents made an investigation of the facts and found that the ring had been stolen and other facts gleaned, the suspicion being

Perhaps though, you would stand out against the labor organizations and in favor of the single tax, just as Henry George did. May we not judge as much by what you did against the unions at your steel mills? The Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, as stated by letters from its members in its official organ (The Amalgamated Journal) "has spent time and money and given its best efforts to organize the men at Johnstown and Lorain, but without success."
The association kept its organizers in your mills for weeks, but without forming any unions there, and the reason given is that the employees at Lorain and Johnstown "knew Tom L. Johnson was opposed to labor unions," and they held him (i. e. you) "responsible, because he owned and controlled the mills, and the policy pursued was by his direction." So then, do you think that labor unions are on wrong lines?"
or do you not?

The father of your philosophy, by the way, wasted no time in discussing three cent fares and higher taxation for railroads. He went in to destroy the evil at the root, and openly favored abolishing all private property in land. You denounce the inequality of taxation which assesses alike corporations of equal capital stock, though one stock may be worth much more than the other. Is that as unfair as to tax alike the vacant city lot and the adjoining lot on which rises a towering structure of stone and brick and steel worth hundreds of thousands?
Is that system of taxation fair or just which plans to tax the farmer every year the actual value of his land, so as to tax him out of his ownership, and equally plans to overlook entirely the man who has millions invested in stocks and bonds and other credits?
Do you not say that all you are doing in this campaign is for purpose of establishing such a single tax?

Why, then, do you avoid discussing the subject in full and in detail, in the way that it was taught by your friend, its founder?

Respectfully,

CHARLES DICK.

rested upon a party, they were not long in judging how and why the anonymous letter had reached Mrs.
Hill. The father upon whose child the guilt was attempted to be laid has employed a detective to run down the case and will not relent until the thief is brought to justice.

Republican Campaign Issues Aply Discussed by Messrs Kennedy, Laylin and Brown.

The city hall at Wellsville last evening was the scene of a political demonstration that will long remain in the minds of the very large assembly present. Together with the bulk of representative citizens there were present many from East Liverpool and other nearby towns. A richer treat could not be desired than that given by the three orators who addressed the meeting, Hon. James Kennedy, of Youngstown, Republican candidate for congress in the Eighteenth district; Hon. L. C. Laylin, of Columbus, secretary of state; and ex-Congressman John B. Brown, of New Castle, Pa.

Early in the evening crowds congregated on the street near the hall and talked with great anticipation of the able discussions of the issues of the day, both local and national. They were not destined to be disappointed. Men understanding the policies of the government better than the three speakers would indeed be hard to find. They arrived in the city on the afternoon trains and were escorted to the Hotel Metropole by the reception committee, composed of J. W. McQueen, Charles McGregor and Thomas Ferguson.

Manley's band, of East Liverpool, paraded the streets an hour previous to the opening of the meeting and the music that was played lent enchantment to the occasion. One most impressive fact connected with the addresses of each of the orators was their repeatedly calling the attention of the enthusiastic crowd to the fact that they lived in one of the most historic districts in the entire United States, made so by having been the home of the idolized and brilliant minded McKinley. The tributes paid the late president were so very appropriate and struck a popular chord that no other reference would have wrought.

Supt. of Schools J. L. McDonald acted as chairman of the meeting and carried out the part in his usual easy and graceful manner. He expressed himself as feeling greatly honored at having the pleasure of introducing the speakers and gave them each a hearty welcome, voicing the sentiment of the people. Hon. James Kennedy, who has been chosen to represent the grand old Eighteenth district in congress, opened the meeting and for fully an hour held the audience to the closest attention, his remarks being so full of honest and logical arguments on the paramount topics of discussion at every fire side in the district. He was followed by Secretary of State Laylin and ex-Congressman Brown.

Mr. Kennedy spoke as follows: There are two great questions of paramount interest which should receive our careful consideration. The first of these is, "Should the American policy of protection be continued?" To those living in the district of McKinley, having heard the argument upon that subject as it has doubtless fallen from his lips in this same audience hall, little argument should be needed. Remember that he, the great apostle of protection in America, predicted our great prosperity and told you that it would follow as a result of the adoption of the policy and principles of protection. He predicted also the depression, disaster and ruin that would follow the striking down of the protective system and that depression and poverty with its idle factories and mills, with its want and wretchedness, with its

All Sorts of Expedients Resorted to in Order to Heat Houses and Cook. Manufacturing Plants Badly Crippled.

A bad break in the lines of the Fort Pitt Gas company, near Brilliant, early this morning has caused irretrievable loss to merchants and manufacturers and untold inconvenience to private consumers in this vicinity.

Those in charge of the local office of the company were unable to explain the cause or the extent of the break, but assured those who called that repairs would be completed within a few hours.

Wellsville, which depends almost entirely upon the Fort Pitt for its gas supply, is placed in a very bad condition.

Manufacturing establishments, using the gas engine were compelled to close down, and not a little suffering was occasioned to private consumers through lack of heat and their inability to operate cooking stoves.

In this city the shortage of gas was not so noticeable, since the great majority of the consumers in the city proper are subscribers of the other line.

The break in the mains of the Fort Pitt Gas company has affected almost the entire East End. This morning the early risers met with failure when they attempted to light the gas and were compelled to dress in the dark and cold. Later when the housewives began to prepare the morning meal there was another disappointment. Old stoves were resurrected and hastily put into commission and dry boxes, fence rails and other inflammable materials were conscripted. In houses where the gas stoves were the only provision for cooking, the occupants were compelled to take a "Jack-bite" from what had been left over from the evening meal, and then hurry away to their work.

The gas company would answer no telephone calls and their East End patrons were in the dark this morning as to the extent of the break and the length of time necessary to repair it.

The potteries were not affected as they are supplied by the Ohio Valley company, but outside of a few subscribers along the main to the plants all houses are supplied by the Fort Pitt.

Oil stoves were in great demand at the East End hardware stores this morning by people who have been depending entirely on gas for cooking and heating purposes. Overcoats and wraps were much in evidence among the clerks and merchants.

Settlement Effected.

President A. S. Hughes, of the N. B. of O. P., returned last evening from Ford City, where he was called to adjust a difference that had arisen in the handling and warehouse departments of the Ford City China company. The settlement was easily arranged and everything is now satisfactory.

ACTIVE WORKERS ALL OVER TOWN

Republicans in the City Are Entering on Earnest Campaign Work.

When the decision was arrived at by the republican city committee last Friday night to appoint and put to work sub-committees in the various sections of the city, it seems no time was lost in carrying out the plan. There are at present earnest and aggressive workers out all over the town, and they are working voters at every turn.

It has been definitely decided that no meeting will be held here during the present campaign. There are several reasons for this. In the first place there was no suitable hall accessible, and on the other hand, aside from Candidate Kennedy himself, who was very anxious to come to East Liverpool, no other first-class speaker could be secured. The East Liverpool committee has endeavored for years to secure Senator J. B. Foraker, for a speech in this city, but the state and national committees have always kept him busy in some other section where the result was more in doubt. Had it been possible to arrange for a meeting to be addressed by Mr. Kennedy and Senator Foraker, East Liverpool would have experienced a revival of political enthusiasm not known in years.

However, Mr. Kennedy proposes to spend several days here before the campaign closes, and it is certain he will make a good impression.

The city committee will meet again Friday night, and at that time the situation will be gone over from reports to be made by both committeemen and sub-committeemen. The body will then be able to proceed with the work of getting out the vote in an intelligent and successful manner.

FOWLER VS. LA BELLE

Interesting And Complicated Case Decided in Justice McLane's Court.

Squire McLane has rendered a decision in the case of Fowler against LaBelle, the man who rented a stand privilege at Columbian park during the week of the fair. Fowler, it will be remembered, received a judgment against LaBelle and LaBelle was stopped from paying the money by a Mr. Miller, who claimed that the paraphernalia attached belonged to him and not LaBelle.

In giving a decision the squire stated that inasmuch as Miller was present at the time that Fowler made the contract with LaBelle he forfeited his rights to the tents, etc. As a result the tents will be sold at public sale.

Will Get His Freedom.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special.)—Ed Snider, who was fined in Mayor Farrell's court Monday, succeeded in raising enough money to pay up, and will avoid a term in the works.

NO CONCESSIONS GIVEN UNLESS FOR EQUIVALENT

From 8 o'clock until 10:30 the council last night occupied the time in discussions which amounted to little else than the consumption of time. In the last 15 minutes more actual business was transacted than throughout the remainder of the session. The most important action taken was the determination on the part of the council to compel the Pennsylvania company to grant many and extensive concessions ere it will be permitted to cross the streets and alleys of the city with its double track system.

The building permit and indemnifying ordinance was put on its second reading without a word of comment.

Mr. Peach introduced a resolution, the text of which was published in the News Review several days ago, which will rid the river shore of every houseboat in the vicinity. According to the resolution Mayor Davidson is to serve written notice upon the owners of the boats to vacate the city's property within 10 days.

By the proper action an amount aggregating $5,349.55 was transferred from several street improvement funds to the general sinking fund.

H. E. Grosshans, C. H. Blazier and J. J. Weisend were elected as a board of equalization upon the Pennsylvania avenue improvement.

At this juncture three plats of land which it was proposed to have the city accept, were presented to the council by Chairman Bullock, of the street committee. They consisted of that of the Midway Land company, the fourth addition of the Puritan company and the second addition of the East Liverpool Land company. Mr. Bullock reported that the plats had been gone over and the territory viewed, but that in no case had the provisions or ordinance No. 465 been complied with to the letter. It will be remembered the ordinance calls for the grading of all streets, the bridging of streams and the placing of monument stones before the plat of any land company can be accepted. Mr. Bullock reported that the owners had promised to make the necessary improvements, and while he thought the ordinance was too strong, still with the understanding that the work would be done, he might recommend the acceptance of the plats.

The discussion was lengthy and resulted in a small portion of the Midway Land company's possessions being accepted. The portion taken in by the motion included only those lots bordering upon streets which have already been improved. The other two plats were referred back to the street committee.

Councilman Barlow reported the properties of Thomas Chadwick and Mrs. Surles on Grant street in very bad shape in consequence of grading. A special committee, consisting of Messrs. Barlow, Orr and Thomas, was appointed to endeavor to adjust the difficulty.

Since the new parochial school has been erected on Fifth street, the condition of Summit lane and Persimmon alley had rendered it impossible to keep the water out of the cellar, and the building was in bad sanitary condition other ways. A petition was presented asking that these alleys be improved. The petition was accepted and the solicitor and engineer were instructed to draw up the necessary resolution.

Mr. Bullock, of the railroad committee, made a report giving an idea of

HANGED IN CELL

Prof. William Pfankuch Desperately Planned Suicide and Nearly Succeeded.

Hanging by the neck, his head fastened between a chain and an iron bar in a cell at the city hall this afternoon, Prof. William Pfankuch, the musician arrested Monday evening and released yesterday morning, and who was arrested again this morning for strange actions committed on Sunnyside, was found by Health Officer Burgess and Officer Dawson, with practically the last spark of life ready to depart.

He was so near death when discovered that for an hour afterwards he was unable to give an explanation of his rash act. He then stated that it was only because he was tired of life. His troubles have not come singly, he averred. Since, as he says, his wife cruelly deserted him, the particulars which were published exclusively in last evening's issue of the News Review, he has been despondent and upon every occasion possible he has resorted ed to intoxicating liquor in the hope that he could drown his troubles. Drink has a terrible effect on him, driving him mad at times. It was thought yesterday that he was on the verge of insanity but he promising to get out of the city it was considered good policy to let him go. It seems that upon being released he continued his drinking. He was seen this morning roaming like a crazy man, and the police were telephoned to, asking that he be arrested.

He was not placed under the care of a physician when extricated from between the irons but an application of water was put into use. Much trouble was encountered in reviving him, and he is now in a precarious condition. His eyes are puffed far out onto his cheeks and his head is much swollen. If he recovers sufficiently he will be taken to the depot and sent to Pittsburg.

ROLEY VERSUS ATEN

Two Suits In Common Pleas Court Between Wellsville Litigants Disposed Of.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special.)—The case of Andrew Roley, of Wellsville, against George M. Aten, was tried today. The plaintiff in his first cause of action asked for $5,000 damages for malicious prosecution. This was dismissed.

In the second cause of action Roley asked for possession of a coal bank. This was decided in favor of Aten.

Licensed to Marry.

BOLD ROBBERY

Followed by Cowardly Attempt to Fix the Crime Upon
a Child.

Fearing conviction for committing a most daring robbery, some unknown person of this city has resorted to a despicable and cowardly deed, attempting to sully the fair name of the child of a family too highly respected and honored to allow for a moment any breath of suspicion to rest upon them or theirs.

The origination of the fact dates back several weeks, occurring at the home of Capt. J. A. Myers, and James Hill, on Fifth street, at the conclusion of a reception given by Mrs. Myers to a large number of her lady acquaintances. On the afternoon of the affair Mrs. Hill was made the victim of a theft under circumstances which were very mysterious.

Mrs. Hill had assisted along with possibly a dozen ladies in receiving the guests and when all had departed for their homes she retired to her apartments up stairs for a few moments. Going to her bedroom she laid a diamond ring, valued at $150, down on a dresser stand, together with other rings of less value, and went out. She was absent from the room, perhaps five minutes, and when she returned she was stricken almost dumb upon reaching for the costly piece of jewelry and finding that it had disappeared. Too considerate to make an assertion when she was wholly without grounds, Mrs. Hill, instead of immediately heralding the loss, kept it a secret. But feeling that it was an imposition on herself to allow the guilty one to have possession of her property she later commenced an investigation.

The guilty party must surely have become aware that the suspicion was being centered, for under no other circumstances would he or she have attempted to shift the crime. Close inquiry was made by Mrs. Hill

CHARGED WITH THEFT

CHESTER WOMAN ARRESTED AT NEIGHBOR'S INSTANCE.

Accused of Stealing Rings from a Brother of the Complainant.

Charged with stealing two rings valued at $15 and a small amount of money, Mrs. Blanche Carpenter, living on Virginia avenue, Chester, was arrested this afternoon, the warrant for her arrest being issued this morning in Justice Johnston's court and sworn to by Mrs. Belle Bowers, of Fifth street.

In the affidavit Mrs. Carpenter is accused of stealing the above articles from a brother of Mrs. Bowers, William Green, a mill worker. Green, in

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

A PRIMITIVE POTTERY.

A far away in the southwest prairies of Chicago is situated a small pottery. The stockholders, laborers, sales agents and profit sharers of the company are Emmanuel Duschek and his family. The clay from which his wares are made is dug out of a hole in the back yard and is mixed with a small quantity of finer grade of clay brought from Michigan. The family horse turns the revolving wheel which crushes the clay and prepares it for use. Herr Duschek & Son further run it through a roller, which renders it smooth, and in a fit condition for the manipulation. An old time potter's wheel is used for turning out the pots, and with delicate manipulation of finger and thumb a lump of clay assumes the most graceful shapes at the will of Herr Duschek. Flower pots are also moulded by a machine. The kiln is in the horse's stable and its capacity is from 5,000 to 6,000 pots. This is fired up every two or three weeks, when enough wares are accumulated to effect one burning. The lady of the house acts as sales agent, the daughter runs the necessary errands and the dog guards the precious wares while the father does the honors of the plant to those who come to see him. Mr. Duschek is utilitarian, but his hanging and standing vases have a richness of color and gracefulness of design which render them especially attractive to consumers in art wares and obtain for them a ready sale.

POTTERY INTERESTS SAFE.

Eighteenth (Ohio) district politics are sized up in an editorial in the Glass and Pottery World, which says in part: "The manufacturing potters of the middle states and, indeed, of the entire United States, can breathe a sigh of relief. In harmony with the advice offered by the World the members of the Western Manufacturers' association, collaborating with other manufacturing interests of the Eighteenth Ohio Congressional district joined forces, and to such purpose that the bugaboo of a joint labor and Democratic congressional candidate for the vacancy made by the resignation of Congressman Robt. W. Taylor is dispelled and those who were fearful of any molestation of present tariff conditions at the hands of the coming congress, abetted by the member from the Eighteenth district, are now resting content. The solution of the problem is contained in the fact that by reason of both Democratic and labor tickets presenting a congressional ticket in the field, the election of the Republican congressman is assured beyond peradventure, and the Eighteenth district will have as a successor to the great McKinley and the assiduous Taylor again a pledged high-tariff representative. Until the American manufacturer of china can be assured of more than 50 per cent. of the American market, his vigilance and his most strenuous efforts must be directed to placing and keeping high-tariff congressmen as representatives in the national congress."

HUGHES THE DELEGATE.

In all human probability President A. S. Hughes will be the delegate from the N. B. of O. P. to the convention of the American Federation of Labor which is to meet in New Orleans next month. John Gould, who is the regularly selected delegate, has lately accepted a situation as foreman of the Canonsburg China company, and is thus disqualified, the constitution prohibiting him from remaining on the active list. He can, however, become an honorary member. President Hughes and Leroy Orr were the altercates selected and as the latter has lately given up the trade for good he too is disqualified. The convention next month at New Orleans is one of vast moment to the artisans of the United States as there will be many questions up before it. Understanding, as he does so thoroughly, every detail of the pottery business, President Hughes is well equipped to represent the National Brotherhood.

NEW DECORATORS.

Fifteen new girls have been taken on in the decorating rooms at Brunt's during the last week. The newcomers are about evenly divided between the decalcomania department and the regular shop and will assist materially in promptly filling orders for decorated ware which have been uncommonly large and numerous of late. Miss Eva Stone, the forelady of the decalcomania department, is handling her increased force in a masterly manner in spite of the fact that the shop is somewhat crowded.

RUNNING WELL.

The Barberton pottery is running full and the results are all or more than was expected. Everything about this model plant works to perfection, from the engine room to the packing department. A very fine grade of ware is being turned out and a few kinds of art pottery have been made. It is the aim of the concern to add two kilns in the spring and in all probability a separate plant for the manufacture of art pottery.

WILL BUILD A HOME.

Howard Leslie, a well known packer, employed at Harker's, has purchased a piece of land containing about two acres and situated a short distance from the Rock Springs park and will build himself a comfortable home. It is his intention to have the work commenced as soon as possible.

A COON ROUNDUP.

William Messer and Harvey Barnhart, of the Union; George Perry, of the Albion house, and Jonah Barnhart spent a couple of days last week hunting over in West Virginia. They had a big coon hunt one night and rounded up five and the next day killed 18 rabbits and five birds.

MR. ROBERTS OUT AGAIN.

John Roberts, the genial and efficient manager of the decorating room at Wm. Brunt's, is back again after a long siege with typhoid fever, though still too weak to resume his duties. John Harrison, who has been in charge of the shop during Mr. Roberts' illness, will remain until he has fully recovered.

FIRST TO FALL ILL.

Frank Sells, an odd man at Laughlin No. 2, is reported sick today. He is a member of the Laughlin Sick and Death Benefit society, and the first of its members to fall ill since the organization, six weeks ago. The society now has 52 members.

CHOPPED OFF A FINGER.

The 4-year-old son of George Hales, a presser at McNicol's, severed the forefinger of his left hand while playing with a hatchet the other day. The finger was taken off at the second joint, making a very painful wound.

CALLED TO PITTSBURGH.

Len Ludreich, a turner at the Union, was called to Pittsburgh Saturday by the death of a sister. He has the sympathy of his many friends here.

AMONG THE POTTERS.

Miss Ida Dittmore is finishing for Ed Messer at the Union.

John Debee, clay carrier at the Union, is very sick and unable to be at work.

Mrs. Bailey, a brusher in the biscuit warehouse at the Union, is working out her notice.

Gus Farmer has been advanced from handle maker at the Union, and is now sticking up cups.

Miss Minnie Connors, of the decorating department at the William Brunt plant, was sick yesterday.

Miss Maude Childs, of the decorating room at the Union, has gone to her home at Toronto, being too sick to work.

Arthur Owens has taken a job in the biscuit room at the Union as kiln placer. He had been working at Thompson's.

Ed Messer, a jiggerman at the Union, had a very successful hunting trip over in Pennsylvania last Saturday, killing five birds and seven rabbits.

INCREASED ATTENDANCE

At the Public Schools This Month
Shown By Supt. Raymond's Report.

Prof. R. E. Rayman presents this month a report which is worthy of particular notice. In speaking of school attendance the superintendent holds that prompt and regular attendance of pupils is a very essential factor, for where there is regular attendance there is, as a rule, excellent work. The entire enrollment in the city school for the month is: Boys, 1,454, girls 1,496; whereas for last month the boys numbered 1,398 and the girls 1,433. This shows constant growth of the schools.

The per cent of attendance for October was boys 93, girls 93; tardiness, boys 89, girls 79; honor roll for the month, boys 710, girls 776.

The report is a very satisfactory one, and all parents are urged to have their children in school each day during the next month.

Ripe And Luscious, Picked From the Warner Farm Near Columbiana.

Youngstown, October 29.—Youngstown people have been privileged to view several quarts of large, ripe strawberries, fine as they were in the best of the season, in July. The berries are in the window of Dr. H. H. Bedford, and were picked by Grant Warner from his berry farm near Columbiana. It is the second crop this year, and the remarkable weather for the past two weeks is responsible for the fruit maturing.

Two gallons of the luscious berries are picked on the farm Sunday, and are of the finest quality and flavor. The display attracted considerable attention today, and many marveled when they viewed the sight.

NO GREAT CROWDS

Youngstown Workers Do Not Appear to Enthuse Over the Duffy Campaign.

Thomas J. Duffy, the Labor candidate for congress in the Eighteenth district, was not greeted with the great crowd of followers who were to come from Alliance, Sebring and Beloit Saturday night. The fact that a special train was to be run from Alliance was freely advertised and it was expected to have some 200 men, with a band in line.

But there was no band, no delegation and no train. The train did not run because the delegations could not get together in all the three towns out together, says the Youngstown Telegram. The directors of Duffy's campaign were lamenting the fact that the train was not run.

Second Presbyterian Church Gift to Young People's Societies' Convention.

Miss Lida Farrar, of Ohio avenue, and Mrs. John Grant, of Pennsylvania avenue, left last evening to attend the convention of the societies of the Steubenville presbytery at Uhrichsville. They are delegates from the Second Presbyterian church. The convention was held last evening and Mrs. Grant had a number on the program, "Junior Flashlights."

The delegates were also entrusted with a banner made by the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Second Presbyterian church, which they presented to the convention. The banner was made of red satin with a monogram in gold and on it, in white letters, were the words "The World for Christ." The banner was presented to commemorate the fact that the society last year had the largest membership and were the largest contributors to the various boards of the presbytery.

soup houses and with its millions and millions of sorrowful, idle men, came promptly as predicted, and was with us from '92 to '97. Look back over the history of the country and see with what regularity the transitions came from prosperity to depression whenever the Democrats came into power; how again business revived, how the factory fires were lighted up; how the hum of industry filled all the land, how depression and sadness and despair gave place to hope and joy and gladness when the nation gave protection to its great industries.

During Cleveland's last administration of incompetency and ruin Americans were humiliated by the spectacle of their nation borrowing money in a time of profound peace to pay the current expenses of government. The public prints all over the land were filled with reports of failure and disaster. In the great city of Youngstown we went to the legislature of the state and secured authority to expend a large sum of money in the improvements of our park so that the thousands of the strong, honest working men of our city might earn a loaf of bread for their wives and children without being humiliated by asking alms.

PROSPERITY IS NOT

Will it be said that tariff legislation had nothing to do with these conditions? William McKinley foretold them all with precision and exactness long before the event, and the calm judgment of history will be that it was not because he was a prophet but because he was a statesman. So with our present prosperity. We repudiate the theory that it is accidental and how great our present prosperity is few are able to appreciate. The balance of trade in our favor since President McKinley's election and the adoption of our present protective tariff bill is greater five or six times over than the balance of trade in our favor during the entire century and a quarter of our existence before. The money that came to our shores in excess of that which was sent abroad for the purchase of goods reached the enormous aggregate of two and a half billions of dollars.

The tonnage of the single city of Pittsburg last year exceeded the combined tonnage of all the principal cities of continental Europe. Our internal commerce has become so vast that figures almost fail to express its enormous volume. Over in our city of Youngstown today our mills are full of orders for eighteen months in advance. Orders for immediate delivery in some lines command prices twenty-five per cent in advance of regular rates. There is today a freight blockade in every great city in the land and our furnaces in the Mahoning valley are compelled to shut down occasionally because the railroads are unable to handle the freight. Happiness and plenty everywhere abound as never before in the world's history.

This is the Republican view of our prosperity which our great party urges you to support and sustain. I hold in my hand a paper which was circulated on the streets of Youngstown last Saturday evening at a meeting held by one of the congressional candidates in this Eighteenth district. The caption of this paper reads as follows: "Union labor campaign document No. 2. Voters of the Eighteenth district vote for Thomas Duffy for Congress, etc." This extraordinary political document appears to have been printed at Salem, Ohio. You remember some years ago it was thought that too many foreigners were coming to these shores and that some means should be devised to restrict immigration. It has occurred to me that if the campaign literature which is annually sent out in this country by the great amalgamated association of discontented political growlers were circulated in all foreign countries, and that no other reports of our magnificent country could reach those shores, that immigration would stop immediately. I wish to read from

"Prosperity! To Morgan and Rockefeller thy name is legion, indeed, but to the great mass who produce the wealth and work overtime, with scarce an advance in wage, and the cost of living under trust rule nearly double, thy name is a sham, a mockery, a broken reed, an insult to every self-respecting American citizen. To the 40,000 little children in the southern cotton mills offering up their tender lives an unwilling sacrifice to the savagism of New England avarice and Wall street gamblers, at $1.92 per week, and this miserable pittance devoured by company stores, thy name is but the emblem of the skull and cross bones, dripping with the blood of tender innocence.

This paper (The American Worker) my countrymen, is a direct invocation to those blackest of demons that curse the human soul—malice, hate and envy; an appeal to those evil passions which are said to have had power to drag the very angels from high heaven down. I cannot but express surprise that anyone should think that voters would act more wisely at the polls with their minds blinded by passions and anger than when influenced by those kinder sentiments and virtues which, if our faith be true, can lift poor mortals to the skies.

CHAMPION POOL PLAYER

W. H. Clearwater Gives a Very Interesting Exhibition of His Skill.

W. H. Clearwater, of Ellwood City, Pa., who is the champion pool player of America, gave an exhibition of his skill last evening at Campbell's billiard parlors on Main street. Mr. Clearwater played a continuous game of pool with Carl Cope, one of the local experts. Six frames were played and Mr. Cope succeeded in getting but two balls of the 30 played. Roy Daughaday, another local player, then took Mr. Cope's cue. Daughaday succeeded in making seven of the balance of 60 balls required to make the 150 agreed upon by Mr. Clearwater. On only three different occasions during the game did the champion make a scratch shot, which is considered remarkable.

After the game was over Mr. Clearwater gave an exhibition in fancy shots, all of which were well applauded by the large crowd present. This was followed by several finger shots which were of a high order.

Mr. Clearwater has one of the best records in winning pool tournaments and championship games of any pool player in the world. In 1896 he defeated Jerome Keogh at the Great Northern billiard hall in Pittsburgh and won the world's championship, together with a purse of $1,000. This year he won first prize and retained the world's championship in a tournament at "The Montauk," in Brooklyn, N. Y. His highest continuous run is 125 balls. This run he made on a 42x9 table at Uhrichsville.

VETERANS AND SONS

Entertainment Given By Garfield Camp Last Night a Grand Success.

It was a great night for the veterans and the Sons of Veterans. Garfield camp, S. of V., gave an entertainment and banquet, that has rarely been eclipsed for enjoyable features. It took place at G. A. R. hall and fully 100 members of the G. A. R. and of the Sons of Veterans were present.

A substantial meal was spread on beautifully decorated tables and an enjoyable program was carried out. S. T. Herbert presided. Rev. S. P. Salmon, who had been expected, could not be present and John J. Rose delivered the address of welcome. In a patriotic and impressive speech he bade the civil war veterans welcome to the table of the sons.

Rev. J. W. Gorrell responded in a humorous and eloquent speech. D. J. Smith spoke for the G. A. R., saying it did his heart good to meet so many young men. It carried him back to the days of the war. The inalienable right of freedom and equality, the pursuit of life, liberty and happiness intended by the early patriots had been maintained. The flag conceived by woman, baptized in the blood of the patriots at Brandywine, insulted at Charleston was dedicated forever to the principle that men should love one another.

Colonel F. W. Meyers, responding to the toast, "The Relation of the S. of V. to the G. A. R." told some amusing stories and called attention to the fact that the evening was the anniversary of 13 important events. It had been an unlucky event for Great Britain that 13 colonies concluded to throw off the yoke of oppression. October 28, 1776, Washington was defeated by Howe, which taught the patriots caution and caused a renewal of ambition. Twelve important battles of the civil war occurred on the same day of the year. He told of the aims of the Sons of Veterans. The local camp consisted of over 60 members, was the largest in the state, next to the oldest, and had held more meetings than any other camp of the same organization in the state.

Squire J. N. Rose delivered a very enthusiastic address in praise of the young men. They had been of invaluable assistance to General Lyon post, he dwelt upon the lessons that had been learned that the stability of American institutions that had resulted in the war of the rebellion.

Rev. Dr. Pratt was called on and made an excellent speech, sparkling with wit and good sense. Selections by the Mandolin club were a pleasing feature of the program.

A VERY EASY VICTIM

Man from West Virginia Mourns Loss of Money Lent a Pretty Girl.

One of the easiest fellows that ever drifted into East Liverpool was in the city last Sunday, coming over from Chester, where he is employed as a laborer. Sunday evening he approached Chief Thompson and implored the officer to assist him in recovering some money which had been gained he thought by unfair means. After listening to the man's story the chief told him that there were people in every city looking for just such marks as he, and that he had no remedy for the case.

The fact as related by the sucker follows: "This afternoon I was in a house on Broadway with the prettiest girl you ever saw. She told me how much she loved me and then asked me if I could not lend her 50 cents. I thought she was as sweet as can be found, and reached down in my pocket for the gift. I had nothing smaller than a $2 bill, and before handing it to her I said: 'Now, will you be honest enough to bring the change back, dear?' She said she would and left me. Well, she did not come back and I hunted her up. She laughed at me when I asked her for the change, and now, chief, I want to swear a warrant for her arrest."

Between the Globe Pottery Jiggermen And Their Employers.

There has been no settlement as yet of the difference between the jiggermen at the Globe pottery and the East Liverpool Pottery company, the operators of the plant. Jiggermen's local No. 12 met in regular session last night and the trouble was the principal topic of conversation. The special committee appointed last Monday night had a conference with the company, but no decision was reached and they so reported.

The local has approved the action of the jiggermen in refusing to work with the clay furnished them. President Hughes, of the N. B. of O. P., was present at the meeting last night. The difficulty will be settled as soon as possible and may be referred to the arbitration committee.

poisons the minds of the thoughtless has cost this dear country of ours enough already. 'Twas literature like this that murdered McKinley. And now in the old Eighteenth district of Ohio it is again called upon to murder the great policy of protection of which McKinley was the great apostle, prophet and martyr. My countrymen, you believe in protection, you that want to continue and preserve our prosperity, can you intrust that principle to one who compares our splendid prosperity with "the skull and cross bones dripping with blood of tender innocence?" Can you trust a man to let "well enough" alone when he himself compares that "well enough" which you prize to the "hissing of a venomous reptile?"

I am not unmindful that you have a rich treat yet in store for you tonight and that I must not consume more time upon the subject of the tariff and prosperity. One word in conclusion only upon that subject. Eternal vigilance is the price of prosperity. We have had our protective tariff stricken down before our eyes before when we least expected it. Let all remember that upon election day.

Now, upon the other hand, what does the Democratic party purpose to do except find fault and scold? Have they any intelligent remedy to propose or to suggest? If so, we have never heard it. They flood the land with inflammatory literature as if seeking to incite to riot and destruction of property and having blinded the judgment of the voter by passion and prejudice they hope to place a free trade rider upon any and every law that is offered of proposed to correct these evils. Place all trust-made articles upon the free list, say they. It readily occurs to you that this remedy would destroy the innocent and guilty together. There is no tariff on oil or any of its products.

THIS IS A FACT

There is No Question About it. It's a Plain Statement of Facts—Made By An East Liverpool Citizen.

Mrs. Margaret Tracy, of No. 179 Seventh street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "One of my family was very nervous, subject to nervous spells—weak and miserable—could not sleep and the digestion was very poor. I asked the invalid to take Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkin's Drug Store. The result was splendid—the medicine built her up—enriched the blood—made the nerves strong—gave restful sleep and so strengthened the stomach that digestion was perfect—the old time languid, played out feeling has given place to one of strength and energy and as a result we are more than pleased with the medicine."

aim a blow that would fall heaviest upon the poor fellows down in the mines. But such proposed legislation is perfectly consistent on the part of those statesmen who can see an analogy between our splendid prosperity and "the skull and cross bones dripping with the blood of tender innocence," or whose reason leads them to compare it to the "hissing of a venomous reptile."

It is said that a large number of worthy men who have been affiliated with the Republican party are about to desert its standard, forsake its great standard bearer and wander away after false issues in this campaign. On August 23 there gathered together in Alliance some men claiming to represent organized labor in this district and placed in nomination for congress a platform of principles claimed to represent the sentiments of organized labor in the district. That platform does not represent organized labor nor its sentiments in this Eighteenth district. Organized labor is in favor of and approves all the splendid utterances of our president upon the subject of the trusts. They so declared in convention assembled on August 8, only two weeks prior to the meeting at which Mr. Duffy was nominated. The platform of principles adopted at that convention as representing the sentiments and wishes of organized labor is like the play of Hamlet left out. On August 8 the endorsement of the president's policy was first in the minds of organized labor, and it is first still. The convention that met on August 23 was dominated by Democrats. Their platform of principles was drawn by a committee consisting of two Democrats at least, and the platform was framed not so much to represent the principles of organized labor as to get something that would be acceptable to the Democrat party and the Socialist party. This movement was intended to be a side show to Tom Johnson's circus. Can it be that the wage workers of the Eighteenth district will wander away after a political hay wagon like that which went out from Alliance on August 23? Its vacillating and hesitating and pleading to be permitted to go to the circus and desert in this great time when great things are impending the party of McKinley and the party of Roosevelt. Will the great United Mine Workers of America be so forgetful of the great honor conferred on their order and the great service rendered them by our chief magistrate? The great Amalgamated Association of Iron and steel workers will let well enough alone and when the votes are counted it will be discovered that the voters believe that the tariff and its maintenance is a more important issue than the initiative and the referendum in legislation.

AS TO INITIATIVE

AND REFERENDUM.

In the platform upon which both of my opponents stand appears as first and most important of the living issues before the people the following: "Direct legislation known as the initiative and referendum. The people should have the power to institute and pass upon the laws by which they are to be governed." The Republican party has given wherever practical optional initiative and referendum. We have it in all changes of our constitution, in municipal affairs where extraordinary sums of money are to be expended and in our local option law. But their platform does not declare for optional initiative and referendum, it declares for this method in all legislation. That would mean, my friends, that each law would have to be submitted to a direct vote by the people. Let's for a moment see now that would work.

The last tariff bill in its schedule contained four thousand items; the voter would have to vote something like four thousand times. The ballot prepared would have to contain instructions, for many of these items are acids and chemicals and things of that nature of which the ordinary voter is wholly uninformed. Such a ballot sheet would contain almost as much paper as a Webster's dictionary. There would not be in existence on this continent paper sufficient to print the ballots for such an election. There isn't a hay mow in this county big enough to hold the ballots required in this city, and the clerical force of the government could not canvass such a vote in an entire presidential term. This method of voting, I have no doubt, works admirably in New Zealand and Switzerland, but New Zealand hasn't had as much legislation in the last ten years as this city has in the last year. Why, if New Zealand should drop into the center of the earth and be covered from sight the world would scarcely miss her. It has occurred to me that if Bonsall and Duffy and Bell were in New Zealand they would now be raising against the initiative and referendum and expatiating grandiloquently upon the beauties of the great American constitution.

REPUBLICAN PARTY

THE WAGE EARNERS.

There are many things in this platform with which I am in accord but no principle is declared for that is of paramount interest. The platform of a political party should be the declarations of what it expects to do NOW. We have the eternal present in which to do our work and it is idle employment dreaming dreams of a civilization to be reached in a vague and distant future. Ultimate co-operation in production and distribution we may have when the millennium comes.

The Republican party and the wage workers are one. They have had a grand career in the last fifty years. They have gone forward together hand in hand accomplishing the proudest achievements. The great workingmen of this nation, what have they not accomplished? They have raised our civilization by their sturdy efforts to the highest summit of prosperity. In every field of useful endeavor they have woven a mantle of glory ample enough to envelop the shoulders of the mighty continent. We see them in the workshops and factories having wrested the thunderous hammer from the mighty hand of Thor, compelling it to perform their stint of labor in factory and mill, turning the might of Niagara into light and heat and power, making the lightning their servant and compelling it to bear their messages over the continents and through the seas.

These same men in politics were led first by Lincoln, the rail splitter, who bore upon his immortal shoulders to God four million broken shackles, the first great Republican martyr in the cause of labor, and as we look along that long line of working men and see Grant and Garfield and McKinley and Roosevelt, all devoting their lives to the best interests of laboring men, we make our appeal to you to stand by this grand party. We do not invoke the demons of hate, jealousy and envy but we call on working men for God's sake to look up and not down. See the luminous bow of promise all radiant with a brighter hope for labor spanning all the future. Your own interest calls you. Your country calls you. Posterity implores you to banish evil passions from your mind and vote for your country's welfare.

THE SPEECHES OF

LAYLIN AND BROWN.

The secretary of state, Mr. Laylin, was the next speaker introduced by Chairman McDonald. Mr. Laylin is possessed of wonderful oratorical ability and the flow of eloquence that came from his lips could not be surpassed. On the state and national subjects of public interest he gave his listeners a vivid explanation, and when he closed his most interesting address every man present expressed delight and satisfaction over the instructive points which had theretofore been as a mist before them.

He reviewed the achievements of the people of the United States during the four decades intervening between Lincoln's time and that of Roosevelt, stating that more had been achieved in that time than in the history of the entire world previous. The Republican party, he strongly pointed out as the champion of all beneficial things accomplished in that time. To show with but little argument what Democracy had done for the country he simply cited the last four years of Cleveland's administration. After talking along many lines of interest of the nation in general he confined himself to state politics and closed by imploring his hearers that none of them would go to the polls on November 4 and vote for a man who would not carry out the principles for which President McKinley lived and died. "Mr. Kennedy," he said, "is the man who will represent the district as McKinley would have desired, and I don't see how any fair-minded man can support any other."

Although quite late when ex-Congressman Brown stepped forth he talked with so much earnestness and impressiveness that all applauded him vociferously throughout his discourse. To the subject of tin, one of the vital subjects confronting the United States, and one upon which he is exceedingly well versed, he confined himself. Like Mr. Laylin, he concluded by a forceful argument in favor of Mr. McKinley and begged that the chosen one be supported to a man.

DIVORCE CASES FROM THIS CITY

Three Occupied the Attention of Common Pleas Court Yesterday.

THE WIFE THE DEFENDANT

In an Action Brought by Robert Smithwaite—Mary Bothwell And Alice McDewitt Sue Their Husbands—All the Petitions Granted.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special)—Three East Liverpool divorce cases came up in common pleas court yesterday. Half of the noon hour in session was given to their disposal, the prayer of the petitioners being granted in each case. Robert and Grace Smithwaite were married in Lisbon in 1897 and a divorce was granted the husband yesterday. In his petition Mr. Smithwaite charged gross neglect of duty and wilful absence, specifying that on June 29, 1899, when he lay sick of a fever, his wife abandoned him, leaving him to be cared for by his friends. More than three years have passed and she has not returned. They had no children. Mrs. Smithwaite was formerly Miss Grace Brown, of this city. After leaving her husband she lived with her mother until last May, when she disappeared and has not been heard from. She is said to have left with Drayton Evans.

Mary A. Bothwell asked to be divorced from Edwin E. Bothwell on grounds of gross neglect of duty and unfaithfulness. They were married in 1896. The woman set forth that for three years, through idleness and dissipation the husband had failed to support her and the daughter, Gladys E., now five years old, and they had become dependent on the wife's relatives. The husband was a traveling salesman, and the wife further alleged that through pernicious companionship with lewd women he had become depraved. She was given custody of the daughter.

Alice McDewitt asked for a divorce from David McDewitt on the grounds of wilful absence and non-support for the last three years. They were married in East Liverpool April 8, 1897. The plaintiff's maiden name, Miss Alice Deldrick, was restored.

PROBATE MATTERS

Wills Filed And Other Matters Brought to Judge Boone's Attention.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special)—An authenticated copy of the will of the late Hester Jeannette Murland, of Pittsburg, has been recorded in the probate office, the defendant having owned real estate in this county.

The will of the late Amelia Gabriel, of Perry township, is admitted to probate. Paul Gabriel has been appointed executor with $100 bond.

P. B. Moore, of East Palestine, as guardian of Amos Marlinee and others, made returns of private sale of real estate belonging to his wards and situated in Middleton township. The court refused to confirm the sale, as the consideration was less than the appraisement, and issued an order of private sale.

TEMPORARY ALIMONY

Allowed Mrs. August Gethlen Pending Decision of Her Divorce Case.

Lisbon, October 29.—(Special)—Another East Liverpool divorce case in which Ernestine Gethlen was plaintiff and August Gethlen, was defendant, was given a preliminary hearing by Judge Hole this morning, the plaintiff asking temporary alimony.

They were married in New York 14 years ago, and have one daughter. The wife charges unfaithfulness and cruelty, citing instances of each. On one occasion, the husband hit her with his fist and threw dishes at her. Temporary alimony of $35 and $6 per week, was allowed by the court.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

Bad Fire Narrowly Averted.—What might have been a serious fire occurred at the store of J. J. Rose, on Washington street, this morning. It was found that a spark from a gas jet had set fire to a joist in the basement which had been smoldering all night. The blaze was extinguished without damage.

Arranging Shelves for Plants.—Carpenters have been busy the entire day arranging shelves for plants in all the south windows of the Carnegie public library. It would be advisable for those who have palms and other plants which are too large to be kept in their homes to place them in the library for the winter, as the atmosphere in the library is kept always at an even temperature.

JEFFERSON COUNTY'S NEW MINING TOWNS

MILLIONS BEING SPENT IN DEVELOPMENT OF COAL LAND.

Industries That Will Employ Large Numbers of Men Now Flourishing.

Steuersville, October 29.—Jefferson county, counting those just started and being abandoned now has 36 mines, most of them around Dillonvale and Smithfield. The United States Coal company is the largest corporation there. It has 45 miles square of coal land or 29,000 acres in Smithfield, Warren and Cross Creek townships, and will spend over a million dollars opening and equipping its 10 mines.

It has just completed a five-mile switch from the mines located on Crow hollow to connect with the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, and not the Wheeling, Lake Erie & Alliance road.

To build this big side track costs a large sum of money, as it was necessary to cut away the precipitous hillsides overlooking the ravine at the head of which the 10 openings were made. In some instances where the ravine was very narrow it became necessary to blast nearly the entire hillside away. A force of 400 or 500 foreign laborers is still employed on the work.

The ten mines are located at the upper extremity of the ravine and arrangements have been made so that coal from the ten openings can be dumped in cars from two tipples. From one tipple six mines will dump their product, while from the other four load. Along the hillside they have made cuts for numerous side tracks leading to the two tipples. A great steam house will be built from which power will be obtained to run all the machinery in the ten mines, the outside haulage system and the tipple machinery.

The company will employ over 1,000 made of a year, and is going to build a new town near the mines, which will be used exclusively for workmen. It is to be called "Bradley," and will have a postoffice, telegraphs and other modern improvements. It is three miles from Smithfield.

The Hitchman & Upstill company, owning over 4,000 acres of coal between Long run and Mt. Pleasant, is starting another big development. Its two mines are located exactly half a mile from the Wheeling & Lake Erie tracks, and as the company refused to construct a side track to its openings, the company had to build a connecting link. The company is also building a new town. The total cost of their equipment for mines and houses will exceed $200,000.

SHANTYBOAT MEN SUBJECT TO FINE

A State Law on the Subject Very Plain In Regard to Trespass.

PENALTY OF FIFTY DOLLARS

Or Thirty Days Imprisonment May Be Exactd For Infractions of Statute—City Need Not Legislate In Order to Act.

Since the matter of ridding the city of the shanty boat nuisance, a number of residents have become interested, together with the News Review. The statutes have been perused, with the result that laws have been found which will, if the authorities see fit, make it unnecessary to proceed against these undesirable citizens in the manner and in accordance with Mr. Peach's resolution passed by council last night.

Section 6881 of the revised statutes of Ohio, entitled "Trespass by owners of shanty boats," says: "Whoever, being the owner of any shanty boat, anchors, ties or beaches, said boat upon the real estate of another along a creek or river, unless in case of distress or for a longer period than 36 hours, without the permission of the owner or agent of the said real estate upon which the said boat is anchored, tied or beached, shall, upon conviction be fined not more than $50 or imprisoned not more than 30 days."

This law, it would seem, was framed for the very identical purpose Mr. Peach, in his resolution, was trying to cover. Not only this, but the law just quoted is preferable to prosecute under, since it makes the offense criminal and the penalty a jail sentence. Besides, the arraignment is secured through the serving of a warrant. Proceedings under the resolution of council must necessarily be of a civil nature. If the authorities are in earnest they may now proceed.

A WORKHOUSE TERM

FOR A MAN WHO TRIED TO ORGANIZE A BALL TEAM.

He Is Accused of Decamping With the Cash, Staying Away Long.

Salem, October 29.—Had not the sight of money driven Henry Berry to contract for a jag of large proportions, Salem would have had a base ball team during the past season and Berry would not now be languishing in jail awaiting transportation to the workhouse at Cleveland.

Last June Berry, a husky young man, came here from Washingtonville. He secured employment and worked about saloons for some time. It was then Jesse Fageley had organized a base ball team and had a subscription list circulated. Fageley sent Berry out to collect on the list and the money was to be used to purchase suits for the team.

Berry collected a sum of money, no one knows just how much, went on a drunk and the last seen of him for four months was on June 30 at Leontonia. He went there from Century, W. Va., where he drove a mule at a coal mine. Sunday he returned to Washingtonville. Monday Marshal George Vaughn invited Berry to Salem. Berry did not know a warrant was out for his arrest. Vaughn turned him over to the local officers late Monday afternoon.

Yesterday about 10 o'clock Mayor Baker arraigned Berry on a charge of embezzling $33, the prosecuting witness being Jesse Fageley. Berry told a romantic tale about being on his way back to settle the case. He was fined $10 and costs and given 30 days to the Canton workhouse, where he was taken today.

TOM JOHNSON'S IDEAS ABOUT WORKINGMEN

Chairman Dick's latest open letter to Tom L. Johnson follows:

Dear Sir—You are reported to have said at your Akron meeting that there is no difference between the single tax as you advocate it and that advocated by Henry George; that Henry George is the father of the philosophy known as the single tax, and that you are a humble student of that philosophy. And yet, if Henry George were alive today you would hardly welcome him, would you, as a speaker in your tent? He always stood up and boldly declared his beliefs and argued them out in detail to a logical conclusion. Why do you not do the same? Would you face a hostile, jeering audience and oppose organized labor as he did in his Cooper Union speech of July 12, 1894. He said at that time:

"Let me tell you what I have told you many times before. It is something I must tell you or I would be dishonest. This whole great organized labor movement is on a wrong line—a line on which no large and permanent success can possibly be won. Trades unions, with their necessary weapon, the strike, have accomplished something, and may accomplish something, but it is very little and at great cost. The necessary endeavor of the strike to induce or compel others to stop work is in its nature war, and furthermore it is war that must necessarily deny a fundamental principle of personal liberty, the right of every man to work when, where and for whom and for what he pleases. Those who denounce labor organizations and their works use this moral principle against you. Stated alone it is their strength and your weakness."

He then proceeded to argue that in the single tax alone can labor find relief. If, as you say, you agree with Henry George, are you not of the same opinion as to the uselessness of organization for labor? Do you not make common cause against the efforts of the wage earners to better their condition, just as your single land tax theory would take away the homes that they have bought with their savings?

and many of her friends, and though it seems almost incredible, it is said that the person suspected belongs to a prominent family of the city and has long floated in the circles of the elite. Just suspicious and not content, Mrs. Hill had about determined to give up the matter, when on last Sunday she received a letter containing news more startling to her than when she discovered her loss.

The epistle had been carefully prepared and mailed in this city, having a city postmark and city date line. It was type written and contained substantially the following:

"It is with deep pain that I write you this letter. Enclosed you will find the ring stolen from your apartment some time ago. It was taken by my child, and I cannot understand why or how the child could do such a thing. For the sake of my wife, who would be heart-broken if she would ever hear of the matter, I hope you won't let her know of it."

The letter was signed by a prominent business man of the city. Mrs. Hill, of course, was delighted upon receiving the ring, but she could not console herself when reading the signature. That a child of that family could commit such a deed she felt positive could not be. But not knowing positively she sat down and answered the letter, assuring the supposed sender of the letter that no one would ever be the wiser. When the man received her answer he was dumfounded. His child do such a thing? He knew it could not be so, and beyond all doubt knew that he had never written a letter to Mrs. Hill.

Perhaps though, you would stand out against the labor organizations and in favor of the single tax, just as Henry George did. May we not judge as much by what you did against the unions at your steel mills? The Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, as stated by letters from its members in its official organ (The Amalgamated Journal) "has spent time and money and given its best efforts to organize the men at Johnstown and Lorain, but without success." The association kept its organizers in your mills for weeks, but without forming any unions there, and the reason given is that the employees at Lorain and Johnstown "knew Tom L. Johnson was opposed to labor unions," and they told him (i. e. you) "responsible, because he owned and controlled the mills, and the policy pursued was by his direction." So then, do you think that labor unions are on wrong lines? or do you not?

The father of your philosophy, by the way, wasted no time in discussing three cent fares and higher taxation for railroads. He went in to destroy the evil at the root, and openly favored abolishing all private property in land. You denounce the inequality of taxation which assesses alike corporations of equal capital stock, though one stock may be worth much more than the other. Is that as unfair as to tax alike the vacant city lot and the adjoining lot on which rises a towering structure of stone and brick and steel worth hundreds of thousands? Is that system of taxation fair or just which plans to tax the farmer every year the actual value of his land, so as to tax him out of his ownership, and equally plans to overlook entirely the man who has millions invested in stocks and bonds and other credits? Do you not say that all you are doing in this campaign is for purpose of establishing such a single tax?

Respectfully,
CHARLES DICK.

rested upon a party, they were not long in judging how and why the anonymous letter had reached Mrs. Hill. The father upon whose child the guilt was attempted to be laid has employed a detective to run down the case and will not relent until the thief is brought to justice.
